How Long Must We Wait For Conservation

Does the formation of a conservation authority in the Holland River valley have to wait indefinitely upon the convenience of the chief conservation engineer for the province, Mr. A. H. Richardson? That is the only conclusion to be drawn from the repeated postponements of meetings.

The first meeting to organize an authority was over two years ago. There wasn't a quorum. Mr. Richardson, as chairman, was to call a second meeting within a few weeks. The meeting wasn't called for over a year because, we are told, Mr. Richardson was engaged in conservation work elsewhere.

Last fall, letters were sent to municipalities over Mr. Richardson's signature enquiring if the valley municipalities were still interested. A few months later, a meeting was held. A third meeting was held more recently but a quorum was lacking. A fourth meeting was scheduled for June 15 but postponed because Mr. Richardson could not be present. Meetings in July and August are also out of the question because Mr. Richardson will be unable to attend.

Mr. Richardson is, as chief conservation engineer, a busy man since he is apparently obliged to be intimately connected with the work of existing authorities. Under the circumstances, why can't a deputy be delegated to preside over the meetings of the Holland River representatives? Is it absolutely necessary that Mr. Richardson be present?

Something is surely wrong when the province encourages the formation of conservation authorities on the one hand, then apparently requires all activity to depend upon the presence of the engineer.

It is a demoralizing situation. Both Newmarket and Aurora face eventual water shortages unless conservation practices are encouraged now. Already there have been complaints of lowering wells in the vicinity of the two towns. There is the enthusiasm to organize a conservation authority; in King township, the council has already started its own reforestation program. But apparently, progress of the authority is dependent upon Mr. Richardson's presence, and so far, nothing has been accomplished.

Expect Main Street Repaved By Next Year Start Water St. Now

Newmarket's Main street likely will be torn up and paved by next year according to Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette. Mr. Spillette told council Monday night that the county of York will be turning the street maintenance over to the town but will put on new pavement first. After improvements are made the town will have the responsibility for maintenance of the street.

The county has been prepared to pave the street at any time according to Mr. Spillette. One reason for delaying pavement has been held out by the town. The county's responsibility has been for the centre 22 feet of the road and Newmarket wants to pave the outside strips along the curbs at the same time the centre strip is improved. The town has been holding off until it is prepared for the expense.

"In all probability we are going to be called upon to prepare for new sidewalks, curbs and part of the paving," Mr. Spillette said.

Children Learn Safety Lessons From Their Friend The Whipper

All the school children in Newmarket are talking about "Whipper" Billie Watson today. The Home and School association arranged for the genial champion wrestler to give a talk to all primary school pupils on traffic safety yesterday.

The Whip, who has his own Safety Club for school children, gives his own time to speak to children in all parts of Ontario and even farther. "He's a natural with kids and they listen to what he has to say," said one of his friends.

"If you listen to what I have to say, I'll show you some good wrestling holds later," he told the pupils of the Prince Charles school yesterday morning. And they certainly listened to what he had to say because they had all been looking forward to the appearance of the British Empire and World champion for days.

Supervising principal H. A. Jackson said yesterday, "This is just the right time of year to have a campaign for traffic safety. And the children will remember what Mr. Watson says for better than what their parents or teachers tell them."

Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, Mrs. Howard Morton, chairman of the association and other members of the Home and School went to all the schools with "Whipper" for the best part of the day.

CHANGES HIS MIND, PREFERS FLOWERS TO BLACK PAVEMENT

Mayor Jos. Vale has changed his mind about paving the centre square at the town hall block. At a meeting of council on Monday night the Mayor suggested that grass and floral landscaping would look much better.

"I guess it's just one of the privileges of a mayor, to change his mind," said Mr. Vale after an exasperated comment from a member of council.

A by-law for an expenditure of $11,500 has been passed by council to pave the parking lot and lanes. The municipal board is to conduct a hearing for the debenture on July 16.

Mr. Vale proposed that the two lanes each side of the building be paved and curbed and that the rest of the area be landscaped for lawn and flower beds. No matter how the money is spent, there still will be a hearing July 16.

TO PLAN FIRE HALL

A resolution was passed at Newmarket council to engage an architect to work on plans for a new fire hall at the corner of Main St. and Millard Ave. A letter was received by council from the Newmarket fire department which indicated that the firemen were in favor of the building on that site.

First Phase Of Assessment In N. Gwill. Over

One phase of the North Gwillimbury re-assessment is just about completed. Close to 3,500 cottages have been re-assessed and notices of the new assessment will be sent to owners shortly. The assessors are now starting on farm properties in the township.

The re-assessment was ordered by the township council early this year. H. G. Mogg is in charge of the re-assessment. At the time that the council ordered the re-assessment, it was estimated that close to 1,000 taxable properties were not on the rolls.

The cottages are assessed in terms of 1940 values and according to age, size, location, type. Farm properties are also assessed according to the same standards, and with additional consideration to the kind of soil on the property. A separate assessment is also being made of farm buildings plus one acre of land as a basis for school taxation should the province pass the necessary legislation to make this type of (Page 7, Col. 5)

Rev. H. Cotton Receives Farewell Tribute From Trinity Congregation

Rev. Henry Cotton, nine years the minister of Trinity United Church in Newmarket was given a $500 bond by his congregation at a farewell party for him at the church Friday night. The bond was presented to the minister by Elgin Evans.

Mrs. M. B. Seldon presented Mrs. Cotton with a silver tea service and Douglas Hutchings presented a $25 cheque to their son Ross. Rev. Cotton left Monday for Peterborough where he will be the minister at St. Andrew's United church. Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's will succeed Mr. Cotton in Newmarket.

A veteran of two wars, Mr. Cotton came to Newmarket from the R.C.A.F. in which he had served as chaplain. In World War I he was an observer gunner with the Royal Flying Corps and was a prisoner of war in Germany for three years after he had been shot down twice.

He has been at Trinity United longer than any minister in the church's 127 years. In nine years the congregation has grown from 537 to over 900. It is the largest church in York County outside of Toronto.

During the Second War Mr. Cotton made over 400 Victory Loan addresses in Canada and the United States. While in Newmarket he has been chairman and an active worker for the North York Camp at Duques Point.

VETERINARIAN AT OAK RIDGES DIES AFTER 3-CAR CRASH

The funeral of Dr. J. C. Brown, 68, of Oak Ridges, was held on Tuesday in Toronto, with interment in Mount Pleasant cemetery. A veterinary surgeon with the provincial department of health, Dr. Brown died Saturday at Toronto General hospital from injuries received in a three-car collision on Yonge street at the King sidewalk.

The car driven by Dr. Brown was said to have been hit by a car driven by Harold Hutchinson, 21, of Oak Ridges who was proceeding south on the highway as the doctor's car was coming out of the King sidewalk. The Brown car was thrown against a north-bound car driven by Andrew Craig, Oakwood Ave., Toronto. There were no injuries to the drivers of the other cars.

The late Dr. Brown who is survived by one son, Douglas H. A. Brown of Barrie, had a distinguished career. Born in Scotland he was a former resident of Newtonbrook before moving to Oak Ridges just over three years ago. Graduating from the Ontario Veterinary college he served with the Remount Division, Montreal, during the first World War, holding a captain's rank. He practiced at Markham, Burford and Lansing and from 1929 was with the provincial research department for four years at Toronto. In 1941 he became associated with the department of health. He was a member of Willowdale Presbyterian church, Markham lodge, A.F. and A.M., and the Scottish rite.

Smoke Responsibility Left Up To Industries

A petition calling for a by-law to enforce smoke and fly ash abatement, signed by 140 persons went before council Monday night. Although copies of such a by-law were before councillors, they favored notifying the industries of the petition rather than passing the by-law.

In an address to council, Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette said that it would be better if industries took action themselves to correct the problem so that the town council would not be obligated to pass a "vicious" by-law which might impose too great an expense on the industries.

"I have made a very careful study of this smoke and soot nuisance," said Mr. Spillette. "Since last reporting to council I have gone to a great deal of trouble and some expense so that we might obtain an intelligent view of this matter."

"The smoke and soot condition, I have found; does not exist in Newmarket alone but is also the topic of discussion in almost every council in Ontario. It has become so common a problem that I have learned from very good authority that both the federal government and provincial government are considering legislation for control of this nuisance."

"We all recognize that some smoke is inevitable where certain combustion operations are proceeding but what our citizens are complaining about and what motivated this petition of almost 200 names is the terrific downfall of soot and fly ash from time to time. It ruins clothes blackens the face and hands of people on our streets ruins the family wash and sends the children home from school in a condition which makes them scarcely recognizable to their parents."

Betty Gordon performed several numbers. In all, there were 34 of the dancing pupils. Group numbers included a minuet, scarf dance and spring song dance. A duet, a Dutch dance was performed by Marilyn Perks and Patsy Walker and two solos by Arlene Simmons and Peggy O'Halloran delighted the audience.

The next part of the program, "Babes in Arms", featured audience participation and drew entries of, Marilyn Miller, Dannie Bolts, Kathleen Primrose, Eleanor Case, Robin Ann Stevens and Teddy McLeod. To climax that event one humorous teen age lad carried another onto the stage to the amusement of everyone.

Mrs. A. H. Flintoff, 79, Charles Wright, Arthur Lowe and Andrew McClure, 80, and James Patterson, 81, gave advice based on their many years of living.

In the special talent section of the program, Little Sharon Beatrice accompanied by her mother recited and gave dance interpretations of popular nursery rhymes. Bill Andrews gave a recitation. The Newmarket Concert band provided music during the supper hour. A vocal quartet featuring Lex McKenzie, Charles Hooper, Norman McMurchy and "a friend" were next on the program. (Page 7, Col. 7)

"This petition, gentlemen, is a request by a large number of citizens and ratepayers asking relief from a condition which is causing them untold hardships. 'Air pollution and water contamination are similar in their effects because they both infringe on the rights of all our citizens to have both these necessities to life every day in a state of purity. Just because air is free is no reason for not keeping it clean."

"There are several ways of solving the problem but unfortunately any method which has been discovered to prevent the nuisance is exceedingly expensive. While we wish to see the nuisance cleaned up, we do not want to see those who are contributing to the nuisance put to a large expense, possibly beyond their power to pay."

"In many cases these conditions have been almost eliminated by careful firing methods and attention to boilers at all times."

"Some municipalities have introduced and enforced by-laws and even resorted to prosecutions. I think you will agree with me that no one on this council is anxious to introduce and enforce vicious by-laws. I feel that now that it has become apparent how serious the matter is to the general public, we would be quite safe to leave it with those who are contributing to its cause. I for one am not in favor of trying to tell our industries what they shall and shall not do."

"Rather, I would prefer to leave the matter with them and earnestly request that some steps be taken by them to remedy this very bad condition."

At the conclusion of his report, council was in favor of following his policy. Mr. Spillette said that the two solutions to the smoke were either a smoke stack screen or positive and negative electrodes on the stacks which would cost thousands of dollars. Other councillors agreed that they would not want to enforce such expenses on industry but would leave it in their hands to decide if such expenditures were needed.

The deputy-reeve's report was almost squeezed out of the council meeting by technicalities in procedure. It came at the end of the meeting and Mayor Vale pointed out that he had a non-debatable motion to adjourn. Members of council voted twice to hear the report against a persistent motion to adjourn.

TOWN TO PLAN FOR SIGNS ON HIGHWAYS
A proposal for signs advertising the town of Newmarket on approaching highways was made in council by Lorne Paynter Monday night. He said that the Lions Club has offered to erect the signs and rent space to the town for advertising.

On objections from councillor J. O. Dales, the council decided that it would be better to appoint its own committee to look into the costs of erecting signs.

His condition is reported to be fair.

Benny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conklin of Prospect St. They could give no reason why the boy should have been so mistreated.

Still Searching For Body Of Roy Huntley, Drowned At L. Wilcox

The body of Roy Huntley, 23, who was drowned in Lake Wilcox Monday evening has not been located yet according to the Ontario Provincial Police inspector's office in Aurora this morning. Dragging operations have been carried on since Monday evening. Dragging was given up last night and renewed this morning.

Huntley lived at 49 Prospect St., Newmarket with his wife, 2 year old daughter, Violet, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Huntley. He and his father worked at carpentry and tin-smithing. Recently he has been working at Wilcox Lake at the Willow Beach pavilion.

Monday evening he went out on the lake in a boat with Trevor or Shier, 19, Newmarket. Although Huntley had a weak heart, he dove off the boat for a swim at 6:30 p.m. After swimming a few yards, he floundered in the water. Attempts by Margery Stranger to save him were made in vain. Shier does not swim and could not reach him since the girl used the only paddle to try to save Huntley.

His father, Mr. Leslie Huntley, said that he and his son worked together at carpentry and barn roofing. Suffering from heart trouble himself, he said that he was not able to do heavy work, made in vain. Shier does not swim and could not reach him since the girl used the only paddle to try to save Huntley.

Chandler's Sell Business To F.J. Dawson

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Chandler, who have been in business on Main St. in Newmarket for 27 years, have sold their business to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dawson who took over on Monday.

Mr. Dawson is no stranger to these parts. He was raised in Aurora where he owned Dawson's Grill. He later moved to Toronto and more recently has been at Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler have bought a home in town and plan to retire from business completely. The couple are one of the oldest in business in Newmarket. They came to Newmarket from Simcoe where they had been a year after coming from England. They bought the business from Mrs. Duffy who had founded it five years previous.

While Mr. Chandler ran a paint and wall-paper business, Mrs. Chandler took care of the store. For the last 22 years, she has been assisted by Mrs. Seneca Cook, a niece. Mrs. Cook will remain with the business on a part-time basis.

The Chandlers have seen many changes in town during their business career. The wartime increase in business and the growth of Newmarket since their arrival stand out. In January, the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. "We have been very happy in business here," said Mrs. Chandler, "and we are most appreciative of the friendly relations we have enjoyed with our customers."

REDUCED PRICE on BINDER TWINE

On June 9th announcement was made by Canadian and American twine manufacturers of an increase in binder twine. The increase resulted in retail prices of approximately $36.50 for one hundred pounds of Binder Twine, and $16.00 per bale for Baler Twine.

Canadian Inter-Provincial Co-Operatives had previously placed heavy orders with their supplier for a heavy tonnage of twine, and this increase was considered very untimely, and in many persons' minds, not wholly warranted.

The Co-Operatives immediately re-opened negotiations, and after a great deal of work and effort, we are happy to announce that our prices are reverting to those effective prior to June 9th.

This reduction to the former price has been made possible by our supplier reducing their prices substantially, and our provincial wholesale, United Co-Operatives of Ontario, absorbing a portion of the loss, and your local Co-Operative accepting a reduced margin of profit.

Present price of Binder Twine - $31.00 per 100 lbs.

The Story Of SHARON

By

ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the third installment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contributor to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

Wild turkeys and wild pigeons! The latter, passenger pigeons, were one of the worst pests as well as a ready supply of food. They came by the hundreds of thousands and in flight their myriads darkened the sky. When they settled on the ground one old-timer has described the scene as a heaving sea of blue. They ate the crops, they stripped the wild fruit trees. On the other hand they were credited for the re-planting of many wild fruits which had been destroyed through clearing or by fire.

They roosted in trees in such numbers that branches broke from the weight and many birds fell to the ground. At these times which came to be anticipated, the women and children of the settlement went with baskets and scooped up these disabled birds. They were salted and put away for the coming winter. During bad years when frost had destroyed much of the crops these wild pigeons saved many lives.

As late as June 12th 1857, a Newmarket Era story speaks of them: "Wild pigeons have been very plentiful in this section during the past ten days. They are very wild, however, and difficult to kill." In 1865 the same paper mentioned them but remarked that they were much diminished in numbers. A few years later mention has been noticed of Pigeon Shoots in Sharon but few pigeons appeared. Now because of uncontrolled ruthless slaughter, this species is as extinct as the Dodo.

When these pioneers arrived in the Sharon neighborhood with their conestogas and oxen and their few domestic animals their immediate concern was shelter. At once in conflict with primeval nature a clearing was cut from the forest and primitive shanties of loose logs were quickly put up, leaving the interstices to be filled before winter with chips and moss. There was little time to consider domestic comfort and the crudeness of these cabins was pathetic, some were but flimsy affairs—one has been described as "a poor little house, only one room, and the wind blowing from every quarter."

Temporary fire-places were built outside for cooking purposes to be replaced later by stone fire-places inside. Some of these stood the sunshine and storms for more than sixty-years, a paper of the district remarked in 1867 that "the tumble-down buildings of the first rude architecture were in marked contrast to the vine-clad cottages of that date."

Floors were of split logs, some cabins had but earth floors. The interiors were very bare. The quantity of furniture brought with these immigrants was extremely limited. Chairs, tables, beds, everything necessary was made by hand. The first lighting system was of lighted pine knots.

The blacksmith of the day surely had possessed a sense of beauty in his soul as well as an appreciation of the utilitarian, from shoeing the great oxen he must have turned his skill to the lighter and ornamental needs of pioneer life. He forged door fasteners, nails, hinges, candleabra for pine knots and candles, as necessity called he supplied it. His repertoire was unlimited.

Prized Heirlooms
Prized as an heirloom still exists a pine knot holder made by Samuel Haines who conducted a blacksmith shop on his farm just below the village. A number of these Sharon settlers were skilled craftsmen and when time permitted from chopping and clearing and planting they designed and made some creditable pieces of furniture. From abundance they had choice of the best woods—cherry, maple, walnut, butternut. These were all native to Sharon. Mr. Charles Lewis of Yonge Street owns a desk made by John Doan. It is of bird's eye maple in artistic line and cleverly pigeon-holed.

In the Temple at Sharon may be seen a cradle made by John Doan. In the beginning, often, beds were of fir boughs spread upon the ground and later replaced by crude frames and bunks. Eventually the four-poster came into use with its canopied top of fine homespun linen edged with hand knitted lace. These beds were works of wonder. The springs were cords laced across and lengthwise and on this was placed the straw tick filled with sweet hay or golden straw. Above this the feather-filled tick billowed in soft smothery warmth.

The rooms wherein these beds were set up were sweet and wholesome and fragrant, and even to-day in some tidy spare room a puffy fat feather bed may be found. Conditions remained very primitive for years—when Robert and Martha Barker set up housekeeping the only cupboard they had was a plank placed across a corner of the cabin. Finally Samuel Hughes made and presented to the young couple a nicely designed cupboard which still is treasured by the descendants.

Searching Archives
The years continue to pass and the mist wherein forgetfulness lurks is deepening. A wish is ever present that it were possible to obtain many more detailed accounts of those earliest settlements immediately around Sharon. The generation which had first-hand knowledge through experience long has been sleeping the dreamless sleep. Their children, too, have passed to the better country. Now historians enter archives and libraries and reverently search the faded documents—an old letter may reveal an intimate picture, early newspapers, an occasional diary or maybe a book so rare that it is chained—these are all helps in reconstructing the picture of those pioneer days.

He cites the case of Abraham Webster, his wife's father, who had arrived on the shore of Lake Erie in 1783, as an example of early hardship and the hunger which gripped the settlements and caused them to dig up the newly planted potatoes. The frost had turned the crops into a total failure. This period of scarcity reached its peak in 1788. Dr. Bruels has further described early difficulties. His grandfather often had told him of going with his father, John Wilson, when each took a bag of grain to Hogg's mill and had it ground into flour which they brought back on horseback.

He quotes his grandfather that in those earliest days at Sharon they placed their grain in the hollow stump of a tree and pounded it to meal by a stone attached to a sapling. For several years after a crop had been raised a man cradled all day for 25 cents.

Black Frost of 1816
History and story repeatedly have told of the summer of 1816 when the black frost again swept the clearings and reduced the inhabitants to starvation. Nothing was saved, herbage was blackened, the wheat was unfit for sale, was unfit for bread. It began to snow in June and continued intermittently until the next spring. These frosts occurred year after year with varying severity until the country was cleared.

A Sharon letter dated 1845, relates "that the frost had been very hard, killing all the plums and apples." No flour, with fish, a few rabbits and pigeons, the settlers struggled through that dreadful winter of 1816. The cattle suffered, farmers slaughtered their animals because of nothing with which to feed them. Some supplies were brought in from outside only to be re-sold at a terrific price. But the spring of 1817 came and brought with it plentiful promise of Nature's abundance and the bleakness of the frozen year became a memory.

Towards the close of the eighteenth century when the first settlers began arriving on the north shore of Lake Ontario living conditions were primitive and bad. There were few doctors and superstition, quackery and legend marred the art of healing, while over-crowded pioneer cabins were rampant with disease and consequent toll of life. Much of this had not made its appearance with the white man, it had been present with the Indians who had used their own primitive treatments.

Generally it was the grandmother who served as doctor and nurse, and she in turn gleaned a good deal from the lore of her Indian neighbors. Of those living in the cabins around Sharon, and continuing through many years of the nineteenth century, it could be said—"Grandmother is gathering boneset to-day!" It was a great day when in the autumn the turn of the moon was favorable and grandmother made her excursion to the fields and woods in search of herbs to replenish her medicinal store. She gathered the flowers and the bark, the leaves and the stems, the berries and the seeds; she dug the roots. The rafters of

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

This session of Parliament likely will conclude this week with adjournment until sometime in the fall. During the interval I will be at home and until the resumption of the session all mail and enquiries should be addressed to me at Richmond Hill.

The session now ending with the usual rush of morning afternoon and night sittings has not been a spectacular one and has been one in which national defence needs have been given every priority. This situation will likely continue for some time and at least until there is a definite improvement in the international situation.

The world picture still is not too encouraging, but in some respects it can truly be said it has improved. There are a few danger spots giving real concern but there have been some indications on the world horizon that there is ground for increasing hope of world peace. Until this is assured, Canada's determined policy will continue to be one of improvement of our defence forces, continued co-operation with those who believe as we do in a free way of life, and every possible assistance in improving the lot of less fortunate people everywhere in the world.

Credit Regulation
Inflation is a dreadful enemy of our economy as a step in the battle against it your government early this year took action the cabins were hung with drying tansy and wormwood, catnip and horhound, penny-royal and spearmint, elecampane and smartweed, may-apple and winter-green, boneset and farn.

A loft over the cabin received its allotment of roots and dandelion and spikenard, gold thread and bloodroot, the bark of slippery elm and wild cherry and the balm of gilead buds from which grandmother made her mutton tallow salve. It seemed the more pungent or bitter the medicine administered the more frequently it was prescribed.

No Scientific Formula
The pioneer grandmother had no scientific formula, she just knew that for stings of wild bees the panacea was generally near at hand—she promptly compounded a poultice of fresh cow manure and pressed it against the throbbing flesh. She had never heard of vitamins but she knew that from the common barnyard and the sheep run could come healing for starved nerves.

In addition it was considered the correct thing to be bled at least every spring. From grandmother's homely knowledge of pharmacy the bleeding wounds incurred from the savage pioneer life had been healed by the application of salt pork. If an operation became necessary there were no anaesthetics and great courage was required of the doctor as well as the patient. Ether was first used in 1847.

In that period in which grandmother still was partial medical autocrat of the settlement there are still in Sharon those who can recall one of these nurses, "Aunt" Martha Kester, wife of George Kester, the shoemaker. Whenever and wherever sickness entered Aunt Martha was called. She assisted many young Sharon promises into this world, she closed the eyes of those who were bidding farewell. The personification of neatness and never seen without the whitest of collars, she was the mother of a family as well as the community's hope and trust in sickness where her therapeutics included confidence and serenity. Years later her daughter, Rachel, carried on her mother's work of mercy. Likewise a daughter of Dr. Montgomery of Sharon was known throughout East and North Gwillimbury for her kindness in helping mothers bring their offspring into this world.

Countless were those who had reason for gratitude. The hours of those nurses numbered the full twenty-four during which they were expected to bring order from chaos, from sick-room duty to cooking, sewing and washing, and at the age when modern conveniences had not entered the dream stage. A wreath of purest gold would fittingly decorate the day of those women.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

A friend of ours went fishing at Lake Simcoe a couple of weekends ago. It was the first time that he had ever fished. He hooked a lovely lake trout. He is now under the impression that he ranks as a fisherman.

We submit that while his fish is one of the largest caught on the lake so far this year, for him to call himself a fisherman on the strength of this one experience is very similar to calling a man who raises a tomato plant in a garden box a farmer.

That one experience, we say, is nothing more than a one-page introduction to a five-volume book. He can not claim to be a fisherman until after many years of painstaking pursuit of fish, and he must also realize that it is not the fish one catches which makes the fisherman. Ah no. That is the very least of it.

What does our friend know of the boredom of a hot summer sun on a flat lake; the cramped shoulders, the sleeping legs? What does he know of the monotony of endless trolling, broken perhaps by a moment of wild hope when the hook snags a piece of driftwood? Has he climbed out of bed at two o'clock on a rainy morning, driven hundreds of miles to fish a lake he has been told of—only to find a thousand others there before him and all boats rented out?

We submit that until he has tasted the bitterness of these and similar experiences he has no claim to the title of fisherman.

Our friend hooked his fish on the first bite. He lost no tackle, broke no line. This might be considered evidence of skill. That is how he considers it. We say it means nothing whatever but sheer luck or else he was using a clothesline and a butcher's hook. He knows nothing of fishing until he has seen the prize of the year slip the hook at the side of the boat, or snagged his line and lost the prize after a 30-minute battle, or even seen the dang thing jump out of the boat and back into the water while the man who caught him was being congratulated by his fellows.

Has our friend seen bass of truly gigantic proportions swim casually within three feet of him, even nose his bait, and then depart while a cast a few feet out inevitably hooks the undersized, the half-inch-less-than-legal?

These experiences are the tempering of the fisherman's ambition, the hardening of his soul. The experience of not catching a fish, repeated a thousandfold, is what makes the fisherman, not the lucky catch, the hole-in-one.

And in the realm of story telling, it is not the fish which is caught which counts. They can be measured, weighed and tasted. It is the one which got away which makes the tale. The spinning of yarns of tremendous battles against overwhelming odds, the whale on the end of a two-thread line, brought almost to gaff before lost. Here is the making of the fisherman.

A salesman was in the office on Monday, proud in a somewhat perverse manner of his beet-red sunburn and work-blistered hands. We enquired after his condition. Been working on the cottage, he told us. It seems that every weekend since the roads were passable, he has loaded family and construction materials into his car and gone to the cottage, returning late Sunday night. The entire weekend is devoted to working on the cottage.

We remarked, somewhat naively, that we thought a summer cottage was a place where one went for a rest and relaxation. Apparently not. A summer cottage is a place where a man works twice as hard on the weekends as he does at his job during the week.

ARENA POLICY

The Newmarket Arena during the past year has been operated as if it were a private business in the sense that it has received no benefits or subsidy whatever. One of its latest charges has been for police protection, a bill which it paid despite the fact that as a public business, the arena commission could reasonably expect police service without charge. The arena commission has paid from its revenues all charges including maintenance, debt, interest, insurance, salaries, etc.

But while it has been able to pay its own way so far, there is a strong possibility that it will end its year in October in the red. The amount will be small, but when it is remembered that the balance sheet does not allow for any reserves for maintenance and depreciation, this fact becomes of utmost importance. Of equal importance is the fact that to pay its way, the arena commission is obliged to turn every minute possible into money. The question is: Is this what was intended when funds were contributed from private individuals and labor volunteered?

This question was raised last spring in these columns and it has never been really answered. The arena commission has no choice but to operate as profitably as possible. It has to if it is to pay the charges that are levied against it. But because much of the financing of the arena was done by private contribution and volunteer labor, the definition of a policy is a pertinent issue. Those who gave believed they were providing for future community benefits in the form of cheaper ice and freer time. As long as the arena commission is required to make every penny count, these benefits are not permissible.

The whole question of policy should be discussed in council. The arena commission should be assured of some financial relief so that it, in turn, can provide those community benefits for which money was contributed and labor given by private citizens.

ANOTHER WEEKEND ACCIDENT

There was the regular weekend accident at the corner of Davis Dr. and Yonge St. on Saturday. Four cars were involved and a woman was badly cut. It was the kind of accident to be expected on a narrow, high-speed highway, at an unprotected intersection.

If peeling back the shoulders of Yonge St. on the hill south of the intersection is out of the question at the present time, surely there is nothing to prevent putting up signs on the approaches to the intersection warning motorists to go slow, to watch for the intersection. It wouldn't be the final cure, by any means, but at least the stranger would be warned and the habitual traveler reminded of the danger.

The hazard of the corner is so obvious, its record of accidents there for any one to examine, that it is incredible that nothing has been done so far to avert it. We know from the experience of the Oak Ridges people in their efforts to safeguard a school crossing how seemingly interminable is the delay of the government in acting on these matters. It took the Oak Ridges people the better part of a year to have two crossing lines painted on the highway and a pair of warning signs erected. (At that, the crossing lines are invisible from the north because of the slope of the highway, until the driver is right on them.)

We realize that these matters should be studied, but surely there is room for the application of common sense while officialdom deliberates. Just why can't signs be placed there now pending a more permanent solution.

NOT MAKING FRIENDS

The Ford Motor Co. of Canada is laying off its men because it can't sell enough cars under the government's new credit restrictions. The company, and the unions, have petitioned the government to ease those restrictions. So far the government has not acted. We hope the government will remain firm. We can see no reason at all to justify an exception.

If the company had reduced prices of their vehicles in an effort to move them, and still had no success, we would have a certain amount of sympathy for their position. If the union had accepted pay cuts, and if company and union had, each in its own department, applied the normal measures any company takes to move its goods in a competitive market, then they might have some claim to exemption. To the best of our knowledge, none of this has been done.

What appears to have been done is that company and union have used the threat of mass lay-offs in an effort to force the government to end its anti-inflation restrictions. That is the only conclusion to be drawn from the news announcements.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

I have decided that it's been a long time since anything has been done for the children in this column. As one of our well known writers about children asks: "Did you ever stop and think that our children will be the next generation?"

How many of you, children, have ever stopped to think of just that? Slim Bliggins believes that the next generation will be made up of a highly developed species of vampire bats. Regardless, you must continue to think that you will be the next generation.

To continue with my story to you, once upon a time there was a little valley called Ginger's Alley. It was a very happy little valley. All the people in it were happy, especially Slim and Min and Win.

Slim and Min were two respectable husbands and wives, or rather, one husband and one wife and Win was their little daughter Win.

Slim worked at the valley tavern where he looked after part of the plumbing. He turned off and on the taps there. Min played the old square piano and sang songs huskily, while their little daughter Win, a popular child actress of that period, tap danced her way into the hearts of the valley people who visited the tavern. She also turned the music pages for her mother.

Among the people who visited the pretty little tavern in the Alley were Bruno the Bear, a lumberjack who was always very happy though gruff, and Mugsy the Muskrat, a happy little bookie, though sneaky.

All were very happy until one day a dancer came to work at the pretty little tavern, name of Lippy Lou from the city. Things in the valley went along well and happily as usual for a while but later there was a noticeable change. The little group at the tavern was no longer happy. A sinister quality had set in.

When Lippy Lou danced, Min sneered and Slim leered and their little daughter Win jeered. Jealousy! What an evil thing it is, especially among valley people. Things had been so happy. And to make it worse, Bruno and Mugsy had started drinking too much. They just came to the tavern and sat and drank too much. They were not happy any more.

Then one awful day a terrible thing happened. Lippy Lou had been missing and did not appear for her noon act. Nobody worried much at first but they soon found that it was a fateful day. It marked pool! for Lippy Lou.

One of the little valley people, Billie the Wild Bore, found her in the bottom of the new valley subway, completely embalmed, inside a piano. Murder—yes, that's what it was.

At first the finger of the law pointed to Turner Under, the little valley's mortician, but a motive was lacking. The whole valley police force of sparrows left no stone unturned. But to this day, they are still looking for the person or persons who could have done away with Lippy Lou.

Was that not a sordid and brutal thing to happen in such a happy little valley where everybody was happy?

All the valley people turned up at the funeral and paid their respects to Lippy Lou even if she had been no friend of theirs. They just wanted to be there with their big googly eyes.

Slim and Min and Win were there. Slim was wailing mournfully and Win was sticking pins into an effigy of Sally Rand. Win tap danced her way into the hearts of the valley people.

People read the stories about it in the newspapers and everybody wondered how such a thing could ever have happened. What was the motive? No one knew.

Now everybody in the valley is happy again.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We are wondering how powerful public opinion is. We are wondering if the indignation and the justified uproar of a group of people can really influence and prod the government out of its tremendous inertia.

We think this year is an awfully good time to find out. We would like to see what action or investigation will be forthcoming to find out the reason for the recent increase in the price of binder twine and baler twine.

Just look at the facts of the case. Price of baler twine went from $640 a ton to $800. It went up, of course, just before the haying season got underway. That is bad enough, but just consider it a little further. All the supplies that went into the manufacture of twine for this year's use were already on hand. What's more, there already has been a raise in price from $525 to $640 since the end of last haying season. In other words, if the raw material was up in price, this raise, one would imagine, would take care of it.

But this is not all. All the companies raised their prices the same time. You may think that this is a coincidence. We don't think so. We think it is barefaced attempt at extortion. We think it is as bad a case of robbery and hold up as any we have ever heard of.

And finally, the prices were raised at a time when the manufacturers of these items were sure that the importation of readily available supplies in other countries would not be possible because of lack of time.

Well, there you are. Free enterprise at its glorious best! First an implement is sold. Then comes the so-called "predicted" shortage of implements. So everybody rushes and buys some more balers. Then, when all the balers are delivered, and most of them paid for, bingo, up goes the price.

Nobody stands to lose but the farmer. The implement manufacturer has finished this year's run, and cleaned up at high prices. Next year, there either won't be material for it, in which case it doesn't matter if the price of twine goes up, or else the farmer can be counted on to forget past injustices, as they usually do.

We all realize that prices have been going up, or alternatively, the buying power of the dollar is going down. We farmers have profited to a certain extent by this very same thing. But there should be public indignation against the kind of barefaced exploitation that is obvious in twine prices. The twine combine has the farmer where he wants him. Having invested anywhere from $2,000 to $2,500 in a baler, he now has to use it. Chances are he traded his old haymaking implements in on the deal. To buy them again would mean a serious loss.

The whole situation is due for some serious questioning and investigation. We do not deny the right of the twine manufacturers to make a living and a profit. But the very timing of this last raise in price and the concerted action on their part, is open to all the suspicion one can muster. Here is a matter for the authorities and the Federation of Agriculture to look into, if ever there was one.

CONSTRUCTIVE BEEF

The Editor: I have a beef, Oh yes, who hasn't say you. I hear it fifty times a day. Well, As I sit here tonight, hearing people beef about everything, I am wondering at the answers.

Last week, at five, as two other girls and myself were walking down Coffer street, the Office Specialty was doing its darndest to make us into black women, by spewing forth great billows of greasy black soot, and as we emerged from the cloud, I assure you we were sighs to behold. We could neither rub it off or brush it off. Our faces, necks, hands, feet, and clothes were a mess, and when we hit Main street, everybody looked at us as if we had been working in a coal mine. Now what can be done about this? I am sure there must be an answer somewhere. Isn't there?

As some of you read this you will say, oh yes, just another crank, but I say, this is my town and I love it here, I am proud of Newmarket, do I want strangers to get the wrong impression of Newmarket? Had this happened to an outsider, I am afraid they wouldn't be impressed with this town as a possible future home. Would you?

Some of will say beefing again, Well I say beefing is healthy for a small town or large, but let's beef constructively, not over our back fences to our neighbors, or maliciously, but in the right spirit. Let's take our beefs to our representatives whom we have nominated to speak for us, and stand behind our beef by using our names, or let's pitch in and get behind anyone of our very worthwhile organizations, such as the Lions Club, who spend so much time and energy helping kiddies; our Optimists, who spend their great gifts for helping to straighten out our young people, the Legionaires, and Veterans, who help those who gave so much for our freedom, which I am afraid, we forget all too easily; our churches, who give us our great spiritual needs and we all need it. Let's get behind our ball clubs, our archery clubs, (we are young yet but give us a chance and we will show you good clean fun and sport, and help to make you healthy). Let's get behind our town council with a working, doing program, not just a talking one, and let's put Newmarket on the map.

This is a pretty wonderful town, and one we can be proud of, but we must work for it, and along with our beefs, let's not forget our praises, for praise comes so seldom, nowadays, I am afraid we have almost forgotten how.

Let's beef plenty, for a man or woman, who beefs constructively, is not complacent or self satisfied, but is out for, and will help make a better town, and I love to beef, but oh boy, I love my town.

So to all you people let's find our answers and do our part. Many thanks, Mrs. Arlie L. Wright Newmarket.

AN EXCELLENT PERFORMANCE

The Editor: The Physical Fitness and Dancing Revue presented in the Town Hall, had all the marks of entertainment which one could wish for, particularly as it applies to our younger generation.

These girls appear to possess genuine talent and our thanks go to their director, Mrs. Charles Gordon, and her assistants, Mrs. Gordon Downward and Mrs. Charles Simmons.

The opportunity presented to these girls is wonderful as the present day rush and bustle of life has a tendency to interfere with the finer arts which are so necessary in the life of a Community.

Physical fitness and ballet, because of their rhythmic styling, do so much to develop poise and carriage that our youth is bound to benefit as a result of such training.

The fact that these girls possess the talent and ability, and the further fact that the community is blessed with a competent and willing director, Newmarket is to be congratulated; and with encouragement, the possibility of this community taking a lead in this field of endeavour is not now just a wish.

The reaction of these girls to this training was demonstrated by the pleasing smile with which they expressed their enjoyment as they carried out their exercises.

All ages were so trained that the spectator could only agree that much time and effort by student and director, had resulted in a finished and pleasing performance. Indeed, it is not an exaggeration to say that this community could very well become known nationally for this fine form of endeavour on behalf of its youth. This, in itself, will justify any reasonable expense which our council may see fit to allow on their behalf.

To conclude, I would say that our children are in good hands and receiving the best that life offers—"healthful recreation"—which in turn, will give the correct mental outlook on life generally and the immediate future, in particular.

The designing and making of the colorful dresses was an added feature of this production. Good luck to youth and thanks Mrs. Gordon.

BEAUTIFYING LOTS

The Editor: It would be a wonderful thing if Newmarket would copy Windsor in beautifying their parking lots. I attended the provincial W.C.T.U. convention at Windsor last week and there was a parking lot near the church on Ouellette Ave. with a wire fence in front and climbing roses of all colors on the fence.

4 Share Wins Kettleby Mat In Peel-York

Schomberg, Woodbridge, Potageville and King all had wins in the Peel-York loop. Kettleby absorbed two losses. Behind Phil Hobson's 3-0 hitter, King won a thrilling 3-0 home win from Woodbridge Monday. Keith Kyle's walk in the first followed by Ted Rose's triple gave King the start. In the sixth, Ewart Jennings and Ted Rose blasted for two runs. Lefty Kitchen and Long Johnnie Kickabell worked the Woodbridge mound allowing seven hits.

Kettleby carried Potageville in their best show of the season two extra innings before losing a 12-8 decision. Potageville rallied in the ninth for six runs to bust up a 6-6 tie. Kettleby's last innings two-run rally fell short. Howard Archibald took the pitcher's decision over Kettleby's Frank Lawroski. Bill Gillham and Don Busby pounded the apple solidly to provide the Kettleby hit music.

"Pike" Cabell's Schombergers got back in the hitting groove under the lights to topple Potageville 11-6. Ken Ellison picked up the pitching decision over Bob Moody and Howard Archibald. Murray Edwards and Doug Marchant punched out two hits each for the 'Berg.

In the other league game, Kettleby floundered at Woodbridge, absorbing a 16-1 drubbing. Jim Flanagan took the punishment all the way. A fifth frame four-bagger by Don Busby went for nought as he missed second base. Bill Gillham kept up his steady hitting to stroke out Kettleby's hit.

Mount Albert Girls Hit For Two Wins

Mount Albert ladies kept pace with Newmarket for the top rung in the Lake Simcoe Ladies circuit with a double-win week. Counting four runs in the second and three in the third, Mount earned a 7-4 win over Sutton Monday.

Gert Harrison was back in hit form to lead the Mounties with two. Ruth Simpson, Shirley Pickering, Marguerite Green, Lois Morrison, Ida Bertolin and Marian Holstock rapped out singles. Dot Lonergan, Rita Riddell and Lillian Holstock for Sutton got the six hits off the neat pitching by Marguerite Green.

Ida Bertolin featured the outfielding. Gert Harrison came up with cracker jack catching job while Marguerite Green and Lois Morrison were going big league style in the inner ring.

Mount's second win came at the expense of Belhaven. It was a 13-6 triumph for the Mounties. Marguerite Green, Gert Harrison and Shirley Gibney got two hits. Kathy Diceman with three and Gert Stiles with two were tops for Belhaven.

Local Minors Share Wins At Aurora

Aurora and Newmarket minor baseballers divided the spoils from a double-header attraction in the Aurora Town Park Saturday afternoon in a couple of well played games. In the pee-wee opener, using a five-run first of the fifth rally to overhaul an 11-7 deficit, Newmarket "Optimists" nudged out Aurora "Cubs" 12-11.

In the bantam game, Jim Preston pinch hit in the last of the fifth and rode out a single to score Bill Wray at third with the game winning run to give Aurora "Tigers" a 9-8 decision over the "Optimists".

Doug McGinnis and Bill Jans unloaded three bas hits each to spark the Cubs. The Cain Brothers, Bill and Jack, led Newmarket's hit list with two and three respectively. Jack Cain, coming in to relieve Don Zogalo, got the pitching verdict. Jackie Brooks, Aurora lefty, and Bill Jans shared the Cubs mound work.

Laurie VanZant had a perfect day at the plate in the Optimist cause in bantam "to do", his bag included two doubles and a single. On one hit, he had to make a hasty retreat as Aurora pulled the hidden ball trick. Bill Mair and Chas. McGuire gunned for two hits each. John Bunn and Bill Wray led Aurora with two safeties each. Buddy Sutton won the pitching verdict.

Frank Hollingsworth threw the pitching book at the Tigers, using Murray Young, Bill Mair, Earl Lothian and Jackie Miller.

Aurora pee-wees: D. McGinnis, W. Fines, W. Spence, W. Jans, P. Babcock, K. Browning, H. Loveless, K. McKenzie, J. Brooks.

Newmarket: D. Zogalo, B. Keffert, C. McGuire, B. Cain, J. Cain, B. Walker, R. Allen, C. Cassavoy, B. Million, W. Croutch, E. Hartley, D. McComb.

assessment acceptable. Mr. Mogg plans to provide for informal preliminary hearings when he can answer the questions of owners about their new assessments. Any difficulties which cannot be cleared up at these hearings will be settled the usual way at the annual courts of revision.

"I do not anticipate any major objections," he said. "All properties are being assessed on equal terms with their neighbors."

He pointed out that increased assessments did not necessarily mean increased tax-rates. In fact, he said, where assessments are increased, the mill rate usually drops.

"The major point is that by re-assessment, all properties are placed on an equal footing, and all owners pay their just share of taxes," he said.

Atomics Win First, Lose To Seven's

Something bigger than first place was at stake in Monday's Town League clash. The Atomics and Sports-Cyclen had a date to settle who was going to take charge of the basement. The Atomics blasted out a 14-hit, 16-5 victory. The Atomics scored in every frame at two runs an innings, stepping up production a notch in the second and fourth when they pushed over three runs. Cliff Ward took charge of the Atomics mound duties, scattering six hits evenly and getting good support from his mates.

Ernie Miller's Cyclenmen committed bobbles wholesale, seven if you want to know, and with 14 hits, Ivan Bray was in the soup most of the p.m.

Vic Langford and Bill Smith set the pace with three per man for Atomics. Cliff Ward, Barney Pearson and Ross Eves gunned for two each. Jack Staley was ace high in the Cyclenmen with two, and along with Smith's new recruit Bill Hill, who patrolled the left field, shone in the outfield. Bill Hill, Fred Speer, Bob Lee and Frank St. Amand collected other Cyclenmen bingles.

777 STAY ATOMICS 18-11

Up to last Wednesday, there was ample evidence knocking about to show the Triple Seven Taximen, town league leaders, could take a lead and carry it. Question was "Could they come from behind?" They did last Wednesday. Trailing the Atomics 9-2 in the third, the Triple Sevens burst in a display of base-running and hitting that wound up in an 18-11 victory celebration.

Atomics opened with a flash of batting power against Art Dobbie to run home five in the second and four in the third. Turning point in the struggle came in the last of the third as the supposedly non-playing "Joint" McComb stepped in as a pinch-hitter and slammed out a long two-run triple to make it 9-4. It was rough sailing ahead for the Atomics as the Triple Sevens ploughed for two seven run frames, the fourth and sixth.

Hit statistics didn't warrant the Sevens running away with it - they just out-hit the Atomics 12-11, it was errors, 6 of them, that killed. Harv. Gibney was top slugger for the Sevens with three, Hack Cain, Norm "Scooter" Legge and Bruce Townsley slammed out two each. Don Brice dug for a homer. Roy Eves, Barney Pearson, Lyman Hall and Joe Burke got two each for Atomics.

Cedar Brae Wolves Score 90 Runs In Three Games

Cedar Brae Wolves have three wins and are setting the Lake Simcoe junior men's league on fire. They've scored 90 runs in three games. They plastered Mount Albert 22-7, Belhaven 30-7, and finally Keswick, 38-9.

In the opener against Mount Albert, Gordie Reeve and Louis Sedore were top men with four each. In the Belhaven game, Ken Taylor and Gordie Reeve got five hits each. Against Keswick, Ivan Hiseox, Don Bailey, Mel Jones and Ken Taylor got six safeties each.

In another Lake Simcoe Junior game, Holt making their start in the circuit were nosed out by Keswick 21-19. Ken Trebble and Don Harper shared the winning pitching effort. Don Harper contributed homer to the cause.

Cedar Brae: D. Bailey, G. Reeve, M. Jones, L. Sedore, B. Drolet, K. Taylor, R. Perre, I. Hiseox, M. Morrison, K. White.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Safety measures are everyone's concern, but never more so than during the summer months. This should be the most carefree time of the year. All too often it is a time of tragedy.

The newspapers will carry the accounts of boating, highway and swimming accidents. Children will suffer digestive upsets because of lack of supervision of diet during hot weather. Others will know the painful, if less serious results of a severe sun burn.

Will this be the case for the summer of 1961? It need not be, not if we use more care and common sense about our summer activities. The highways are congested with extra traffic. More children are using their bicycles. Children are playing on the streets or near them, forgetful of the dangers. Come the hot sultry weather and all ages get out the swimming suits for a cool dip at the lake.

As a safety measure, the Newmarket Home and School has sponsored a "Scotchlight-A-Bike" campaign at the elementary schools in town. Through this campaign, bicycles were tapped with a reflective material which makes them visible at a considerable distance. Even if only one child is saved from becoming an accident victim the campaign is an important one.

Combined with the application of the safety tape to the bicycles, the Home and School association arranged for the appearance of Whipper Billy Watson, noted Toronto wrestler, at the schools. Mr. Watson spoke to the children on road safety. He was accompanied by Chief of Police, Byron Burbridge.

This is a positive action to help curtail accidents. If car drivers could only be similarly indoctrinated with safety rules, our highways would cease to be the death traps which they have become. During the past few months, it has been a rare trip when we have not seen the dreadful aftermath of careless driving or speeding on busy highways.

On one such occasion, we commented on the number of buses that bore down on us as we came north on Yonge St. . . the buses always racing down the centre of the road. It was not many miles farther north when we were slowed to a snail's pace to circumvent a serious accident. occupants of the damaged car had been rushed to York County hospital. The passengers from the bus, for it was one of the series of thundering giants which had earlier aroused our indignation, which had been involved in the accident, were awaiting another bus to carry them to their destination.

With the closing of schools this week the mass exodus of urban residents to summer cottages gains momentum. The highways will become even more crowded. In Newmarket, an added impetus is given to this annual movement with the closing of many businesses and factories for the holiday session.

Surely it is a small measure to practice the safety rules of diet, swimming and boating and highway to make these holidays happy ones for all. Non-swimmers should wear life preservers while in boats. Only completely seaworthy boats should be used and then, they should not be overloaded.

It seems unnecessary to warn against people changing places while in a boat, shooting rapids or boating in stormy weather, but year after year, such facts will find their way to the headlines recording the tragic, needless waste of another life.

As a part of the general policy of the Newmarket Horticultural Society to improve the community by creating, stimulating and retaining interest in beautiful gardens and an attractive town, the society has sponsored the Clean-Up week for three successive years. Special pick-ups of garden refuse were arranged for two evenings, June 12 and 14.

"The residents co-operated with the society in this project," said Mr. Caldwell. "All the material had been piled at the curb in readiness for the pick-up so that no time was lost."

"I would like to thank the members of the society who volunteered their time to man the pick-up trucks as well as the drivers of the trucks and their assistants," he said. Mr. Caldwell called attention to the fact that the Clean-Up week is but one of many services performed by the society for the general improvement of the town.

GIVE SURPRISE PARTY

A number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beckett, on Friday evening, to celebrate the birthdays of Fern Flintoff, Lorne Bache, Charles Brillinger and Mrs. Beckett. Welcome services will be held at the citadel on Sunday.

ROUND OF PARTIES ON 74TH BIRTHDAY

Parties spread over a three-day period marked the 74th birthday of Mrs. T. G. Cumber. On her birthday, Friday, June 22, about 16 of her children and grandchildren called on Mrs. Cumber. Her friends and neighbors also visited her.

Mrs. Cumber received many remembrances including flowers, cards and gifts as well as a telephone call from her son, Stanley, Toronto, and a cablegram from her sister, Mrs. Pierce Arnold, Kent, England.

A picnic supper was held at Springwater Park, Midhurst, on Saturday in honor of Mrs. Cumber with the following members of her family in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Parks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cumber, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cumber, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sheridan and family, Miss Winnie Cumber, Fred and Horace Cumber.

On Sunday a family dinner party, complete with decorated birthday cake climaxed the celebrations for Mrs. Cumber.

HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

DUSTMOP AND SKILLET: Midland, it seems is the only Barrie and District side with a clean sheet. Beware of Muriel Rawn is the warning being sounded from the Georgian Bay shores by sport columnist Charlie Noquet. The Penetang school-marm threw a one hitter against Orillia. What will she do when kids are out from school?

Marg. McCannan may be lost for most games after the Dominion Day holidays as she expects to take up permanent residence in the big city. Jackie Moore pitched a five hitter at Orillia as the VanZant-Courtney girls won 6-1. Pauline "Pud" Bovyar was back in uniform and Mary Ellen McInnis is expected to return to the team ere long.

In the new recruit department, Theresa "Terry" Reid was going great guns around the key stone sack. Gwen Allen, another rookie, is showing improvement each time out.

BABY DOLLS: It looks like a Newmarket year. One loss for Watt-Dillman junior cuties to date, that to Mount Albert. Juniors are well fortified in the chucking department with three, Darlene "Stuff" Stuffles, Jeanne "Smiler" MacDonald and Carol Burton.

RURAL ROUND-UP: Bob Pigskin Peters' coaching at Hope begins to show results. Floyd Hollinger, chief scorer at Mount Albert, queries: "How many do we have to win to get in the play-offs?" Worried sir? About five, the way the teams are knocking each other off at the present time. Correct me later if I'm wrong.

There are five Preston's in the Simcoe League, three with Vandor, two with Pine Orchard. Let's see, "Josh", "Bub" Lloyd, Jim and "Cab". A prize to anyone who can give their correct monikers.

What gives here? Ken. "Red" Mitchell is playing short-stop for the Mounties. Must be saving him for the play-offs men, better not wait too long. Mounties didn't show up at Belhaven recently and lost a couple of valuable points maybe. Morley Case, long time Mount kingpin, is in the sick bay. Would be a nice gesture for the league to stage a benefit game for the durable "Casey at the bat". "Judd" Rutledge is back in the game with Belhaven.

Ross Draper's move to Oshawa proved costly. He's back at Mount now but isn't eligible for this year. That hurts. "Lefty" Don Glover came up with a well pitched six hitter recently as Hope took Belhaven over the hurdles 18-3. Good reports are coming along on the officiating of brother Bill (Haskett) and Royden Connell.

TOWN CUT-UPS: Andy Closs, manager-coach of the Aurora Merchants, sounds a warning note to those Mickey Sutton Ditch Diggers that we'll have a surprise or two cooked up for them next time out. Wonder what he means? Aurora Town League all-stars, were told, took a shelling in Richmond Hill recently. Score remains deep dark secret.

HOME CORRAL: Our recent dig about bringing out Bruce Townsley seemed to bring results he's out with the front-running Triple Sevens regularly now. Hack Cain and Mickey Smith are waging a tight battle for the batting crown. Hack is also powdering the ball for Harts in the Aurora Town League. Maybe he'll be in shape for next season's Spitfires—we hope.

If Pete Neufeld had been around for last Thursday's Atomic-Triple Seven clash, he'd have been pondering whether he made the right move in giving Barney Pearson and Lowell Waller releases. They both got in some licks for the Atomics, Barney particularly clouting the apple and going big league at short, for Holmesmen.

The Triple Sevens have the speediest outfit in business with Alvie McKnight, Jerry Hugo Normie Legge, Bruce Townsley and Harvey Gibney liable at any moment to steal the shirt right of the opposition catcher's back. Once on the runways that five-some are at third before you can say Jack Robinson.

MISCELLANEOUS: Holt is the sixth team in the junior men's Lake Simcoe circuit, reports secretary Horace Brown. The big grader has been on the Fair Grounds diamond over the past week, three parts completed. Things are looking up. Need another thousand smackers to get on with the floodlight installation. There's a bit of good news in the wind too as we hear the Lions Club summer program will continue this year at the park.

As we peer from our backyard, wonder what we would do without the park? Each Sunday brings in a flock of out-of-town visitors. They must go away with a good thought of the Hub of North York. Recently we indicated the Office Specialty had formed a factory-office team, with that old time baseball man, Charlie LeGoode, at the coaching helm. They asked for games. Sangamo girls took up the challenge and defeated them. The score, we are told, was 21-9.

KETTLEBY

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Battersby and family in their recent sad bereavement.

On Sunday, June 24, three Anglican congregations, Kettleby, Nobleton and St. Mary Magdalene's, Schomberg, gathered in St. Mary Magdalene's to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Parish. Dean Riley of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, was the morning speaker. He gave a sincere talk on what the church should mean in our lives. The first thing we have to remember is the fact that we are all sinners, he said, needing the cleansing blood of our Saviour: to wash away our stains. None of us can earn salvation by good works. Secondly, we need to come to church every Sunday to ask for the refreshing grace of God, to strengthen and sustain our souls' health, and thirdly, we also have great responsibilities as Christians which we must undertake. We have to work with God, he concluded.

We are happy to report Mrs. Abbott is improving although she will have to remain in bed a little while yet.

Sunday, July 1, is Decoration Day in Kettleby cemetery. It is also Dominion Day. Let us all return thanks to God for this wonderful Dominion and seek to make it a real Christian country in which all nationalities can live at peace together.

Christ Church Ladies' Guild has given a new kneeling cushion for use at the altar rail. It is a great improvement.

We are very sorry to hear Miss Bertha Munshaw is sick, and wish her a speedy recovery.

Services next Sunday at Christ church will be 9.45 a.m. for both Sunday school and morning prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodwin of Sintulata, Sask., returned home on Saturday after visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black and Miss Laura Goodwin.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

WE developed a crippling inferiority complex due to an extended weekend visit to the Toronto Highland Games at the CNE Stadium (June 15-16). Standing less than six feet ourselves, we crept around among towering Scottish athletes like an apologetic mantis and watched them putting the shot, throwing hammers and running like wild men around the quarter-mile race track. We felt much better while watching the lassies in the Highland dancing, for they, at least, resembled the traditional Scotland of song and story. But our tranquility of spirit seldom lasted for very long at a time, for a simple side glance would catch another strapping Highlander tossing around the better part of a telephone pole as easily as we would balance a match. From our point of view the Highland Games were a terrifying success.

Games' History

The Toronto Highland Games were inaugurated in 1950. With the Toronto Scottish and the 48th Highlanders regiments as a nucleus, it was decided that the Games be dedicated to "establishing and retaining true Scottish traditions and culture in the City of Toronto" and no less than 17 Scottish societies stepped in to boost the event.

This year, under the chairmanship of Mr. Ian MacKay, the annual event got under way with a military tattoo on Friday evening (June 15) when 21 bands took part, with trumpets, bagpipes and drums rolling out a thundering echo of Scottish pageantry before 10,000 spectators in the gigantic CNE grandstand.

On Saturday afternoon the Games were officially opened by Major-General Howard Graham, C.B.E., D.S.O., E.D., and the fun began. Mr. John Cobb of the Toronto Police Athletic Association supervised the sporting events which were run simultaneously like a massive five-ring circus. The quarter-mile track fronting the grandstand seemed constantly alive as race followed race. The sixty and hundred-yard dash races for girls, the one-mile relay and the one-mile grind for men were some of the events we caught. Over in the centre plot the high jump was hotly contested and still further the pole vault and the shot were played to a winner.

If our memory serves, the winners in the above events were: Gwen Hobbins, 60 yards; Tiny O'Halloran, 100 yards; Messrs. Wallace, Harding, Cassis and Wilson, mile relay; Selwyn Jones, the mile; Paul Pace, the five-mile; Terry Anderson, high jump; Eddie Bretta, pole vault; and Stan Raikie, the 16-pound shot put.

Caber Tossing

Of all the events we witnessed at the Highland Games, however, the most uniquely Scottish sport was tossing the caber. To us, the caber itself was a man-sized chunk of telephone pole weighing 150 pounds. But when Bill Rutherford tossed it up and over for its required spin in the air (throwing a total of 40 feet, 9 inches from the chalk line, to win the Corby Trophy), we decided then and there that if Rutherford wished to call it a caber, he'd get no argument from us. Caber tossing is quite a caper and we were satisfied to stand well back.

The two Scottish regiments met in their yearly tug-of-war for the O'Keefe's Trophy and this time the Toronto Scottish pulled the defending 48th Highlanders off their feet.

Hamilton-Games

Remember the dates (Friday and Saturday June 29 and 30th) when the Annual Hamilton Scottish Gathering takes place at the Civic Stadium, held by the Scottish Societies and Clans of Hamilton district and the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada. This 5th Hamilton gathering is being presented under the distinguished patronage of their Excellencies the Governor General and Viscountess Alexander and includes, of course, a military tattoo with massed pipe and brass bands, Highland dancing competitions, and track and field events.

Hoot mon! When they drag out those telephone poles—run for cover!

Hats Off To Bradford Sports

Bradford gets the nod from this corner this week as an outstanding example of what a small place can do by way of an All-round sports program. Lacrosse will probably always be the first love of the community and Bill Mullis' boys will be at home to Midland next Saturday night. Fresh from two straight wins, they will probably attract a bumper house, and since a near-riot occurred on the occasion when these two clubs met last, there'll be plenty of action.

Midland box is also to be featured this year and the boys will get started in July. Softball finds the Ted Capp-Bus Carter club in third place in the South Simcoe loop close behind Fennell's and Cooktown who are both undefeated. Steve Simone is still tossing a nice ball but the club lacks balance. Keith Collings is behind the plate and is busy every night with either mushball or lacrosse.

Girls' softball has been revived this year but the females are not quite fully organized. Soccer finds a strong team entered in the Simcoe County league, featuring the Osadchuk Brothers, the Doane brothers of O.A.C. boxing fame, Mike Brinkos and Mike Kuhla, and a lot of other lads from the marsh, many who learned about "football" in other lands.

Baseball, after an absence of close to 25 years, is back on the scene under the leadership of Fred Gregory and Jimmy Everitt, and while the baseballers aren't expecting miracles, they'll hold their own in the southern section of the South Simcoe league where Alliston Legionnaires are atop the heap. Among the diamond clan are such fellows as: Art Evans 1b, Ed McEvoy, J. Sweeney c, Ken Tupling, ye goalie of Aurora Bears, Bob Veale, Lloyd Giffen p, Joe Magani, Ev. Stevens, Bus Carter, Mac McDonald, Elmo Phillips of Aurora Bears, Mike Wana-maker, and others.

Tried to recollect some of the players of the last Bradford hard ball team but the best we could do was to think of "School-master" Nodwell, Charlie Evans, Ted Hipwell, Lou Walker, Baldy Stoddart, Joe Evans. Bill Taunt, Bob Veale and one or two more will carry the track and field banner of Celerytown throughout the province this summer. Quite a program for any municipality, and with no recreation commission either. Take a bow gents!

Before we forget, let's mention that Shirley Turan, who should know all the answers, is doing the umpiring for the baseball club, and that Murray Saint, son of "Dutch" Saint, is tending goal for Toronto Maitlands lacrosse club this year.

Capsuled comments: Biggest race in year at the Markham Township softball league, which has six clubs this summer with Nels. Findlay's Thornhill club, and Claremont from Pickering Township being added. Usually Bill Hood's Buttonville club is away out in front. This year, Markham and Unionville are tied for the top with Buttonville and there isn't an easy touch in the league. Such favorites as Normie Stenden, Mac Clement, Jack and G. umney, Bob and Nick Bangay are in action for Buttonville again.

Unionville features a pitching trio of Don Couch, Cliff Cox and Chuck Blundall which ranks with the best. Peggy O'Neil, a newcomer to Markham, is the find of the year and has already pitched three straight shutouts. Moe Black, who will be remembered as a promising baseballer in juvenile, is handling O'Neil. Vic Meharg, who has whooped it up with Aurora Indians the past two winters, is throwing for Peaches while Claremont has Lloyd Pascoe, who will be recalled for his nifty puck-chasing with Victoria Square and Stouffville juniors. Chub Spencely, well-known bush league pucker, is with Claremont and Gordy Lewis, one of the aces of the Stouffville hockey club, is with Peaches.

Blondie Townsley, son of the famous "Sonny" Townsley, is playing smart baseball at Acton this year. Down at Petawawa Camp, Fred. Schepelman, "Ready for Freddie" of mound fame with Milliken and Stouffville juniors, is in the army and pitching on a par with the best in the Ottawa Valley. Nick Procenko, another ex-baseballer from down Stouffville way, is in the American army now.

John Stuart picked up a neat filly called Peggy Lawless in Detroit and already he's won two straight with her at nice prices. Girls' softball finds a league with Stouffville, Peaches, Victoria Square, and Unionville playing by themselves. This is the group Aurora and Elgin Mills were supposed to have joined. Victoria Square, we understand, refused to have any part of a league with Elgin Mills so a new circuit seems in the offing. Elgin Mills has secured the use of Richmond Hill fair grounds.

Ronnie Rowe, better known for his hockey playing, especially with Markham Juniors and Marlboro, is located in Sutton for the summer and he's playing spectacular baseball at second base for Doc Leary's proteges. Stouffville is a bit weaker than last year, and Sutton stronger and such a good judge as Earl Cook, regards Sutton as the club to beat for Tri-County honors.

Jack Cole, prominent athlete with Guelph Aggies, is located at Stouffville as a student veterinarian and he's holding down the middle sack nicely for Stouffville. A 12-mile ruling bars needed players in Newmarket and Aurora from the Stouffville club.

Ivan Tamblin, member of the Cambray hockey club and one of four brothers on the club which won rural "B" hockey honors last winter, middle-aided it recently with the former Audrey Trent of Aurora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trent. This united in marriage two great sports families for the bride's three brothers, Edward, Arthur, and Clarke Trent likewise members of the Cambray club, while her father was manager. All seven took part in the ceremony. It was an unique event. Mr. Walter Wood of Aurora is grandfather of the bride.

Keswick Hits Way To Top Vandorf Wins

Keswick sluggers took off for two wins to pop to the top of the heap in the Lake Simcoe loop. Three outstanding chucking chores were recorded by Hope's Don Glover, Blue's Ron Kester and Lloyd Preston down Vandorf way.

First innings doubles by Cliff Ward and "Bunny" Cook earned Hope a 1-0 win over Zephyr "Blues" in "a best of the season" tilt. Those two safeties busted a tight pitchers' duel betwixt Hope's lefty Don Glover and Blue's Ron Kester. Clark Arnold's single brought Glover's no hit bid tumbling. Kester allowed three hits to Cliff Ward, Bun. Cook and Ross Eves. Louis Sedore provided the fielding tidbit with a snatch of a smoking liner off the bat of Ken Pickering.

KESWICK SLUGGERS: Hope first felt the lash of Keswick's hits, absorbing a punishing 14-4 whipping. Ken. Hodgins and Coach Bill Stanyer nailed four-baggers. Chuck Stevens and Tom Hare got three hits. Hal "Judd" Smith was the winner over Cliff Ward, the latter getting the major share of Hope's meagre hit take.

Keswick next rolled over Mount Albert 19-5. Ken Hodgins got five, one a homer, Bill Stanyer four, one a homer. Tom Hare banged away for three. "Judd" Smith had an easy time tacking this win to his record. Hitters with Mount Albert were Elmer Paisley with two and Chas "Muscles" Green with a homer.

GOOD NEWS FROM VANDORF. With four-hit pitching and an 18-hit assault, Vandorf scuttled Queensville Realtors 13-5. A ten-run second frame gave Vandorf their first win. Jim Preston led with four including a bases loaded homer. Bob Staley and Cab. Preston got two hits. Bill Burkholder, Bob English, Bill Smith and Jack Perry collected Queensville's scant four hits.

HOWARD ASH and Harvey Preston dropped perfect bunts and scooted home on Chick Shropshire's four bagger in the last of the seventh to earn Pine Orchard an 8-5 win over Queensville. Bruce Pegg's fuzz ball kept the Boakmen off stride until they broke out in final two frames to roll from behind a 5-3 deficit. Chick Shropshire and Harry Barmmer led Pine Orchard hits. Bruce Greig, Jack Perry and Bob English picked up the hits for slumping Realtors.

League teams ran into their first batch of postponements. Belhaven led Willow Beach 8-4, in fourth but had to abandon the contest because of rain last Wednesday. Friday's Games, Mount Albert at Willow Beach and Zephyr at Pine Orchard, were washed out.

Games ahead: June 28, Pine Orchard at Mount Albert; Zephyr at Queensville; June 29, Queensville at Willow Beach; Belhaven at Vandorf; July 3, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; Willow Beach at Vandorf; July 4, Belhaven at Pine Orchard; Queensville at Hope.

Ladies Split Games, Lose Tough One To Midland

Newmarket ladies divided a pair of "on the road" games in the Barrie and District League over the past week. With a five-hitter fired by Jackie Moore, and near perfect fielding, they downed Orillia "Valley Flyers" 6-1 Thursday.

Newmarket counted their runs in two game winning drives. Back to back singles in the second by Pauline "Pud" Bovair, making her first start of the season, and Mona Dean plus follow up hits by Jackie Moore and Phyl McInnis salted four runs in the kitty. Hits supplied by Mary Osborne, Pauline Bovair and Phyl McInnis added two insurance runs in the third.

On Monday, invading Midland for a replay of the postponed season opener, the local lassies absorbed a 7-5 defeat. Newmarket looked to shatter the Midland win streak, now at five, with single runs in the first, third and fifth and two in the fourth on the strength of Phyl McInnis' four-bagger, to build up a 5-0 bulge. Hester Clark had the situation under control besting Muriel Rawn, Midland's ace in the pitchers' duel, chopping off all Midland attempts to break into the run column.

Came the fifth and first trouble as Midland cashed in two runs. Then disaster as Midland loaded the decks in the sixth and Jackie Moore came on in an attempt to squelch the fire. June Hansford laced a liner over first and ran it into a game winning four-run four-bagger.

Collis Trims Merchants 8-4 By 4-Run 5th

Collis "Tanners" collected their second win of the Aurora Town League Thursday and tightened their grip on third place in the league race with an 8-4 triumph over Andy Closs' Merchants. The Merchants have yet to get their first win.

A four-run fifth innings was the main cog in Tanners' victory. Neil Anderson, J. O'Mahoney, Ray White and "Red" Castles tied back to back singles together to build the Tanners winning wedge. "Red" Castles, nicked for seven hits by the Merchants swingers, started the Tanners on their way with a two-run second frame circuit smash.

Jim Edmunds came up with a base-circling smash to score "Lefty" Phillips on the runways via his second single as the pair sparked the Merchants hitting. Merchants: D. Holman, P. Knowles, P. Garrow, A. Closs Jr., R. McGann, L. Phillips, D. Ferguson, J. Edmunds, J. Murray.

Collis Tanners: B. Hartman, H. Sutton, N. Anderson, J. O'Mahoney, R. White, S. Kerr, R. Castles, G. Winters, A. Brown.

TANNERY HIDES TANNED

Harts "Diamonds" swamped Collis Leather "Tanners" 36-12 in a town league fixture at the park Tuesday. Harts got the bulk of their runs in three big scoring sprees. They counted an even dozen in the sixth, tapering production to nine each in the first and fifth.

Collis had one big show of hands, in the fourth as they batted the side around for nine tallies. Three Hartsmen, Hack Cain, Alf. Childs and Doug Richardson, got homers. Harry Sutton and Geo. "Hoppy" Hodgins swung away for base-circlers in the losing cause. The victory gave Harts a share of the top roost with the Ditch Diggers although the latter have a game in hand.

Harts: A. Childs, H. Cain, W. McGhee, R. Rose, A. Campbell, D. Richardson, S. Aylett, E. Aylett. Collis: B. Hartman, G. Hodgins, G. Winters, S. Kerr, R. Castle, N. Anderson, H. Sutton, R. Smith, R. White.

Sparked by Roy "Mutt" Collins dazzling eight-goal scoring spree, Bradford "Celery Kings" galloped to a 22-15 triumph over Toronto "Maitlands" Saturday night in Bradford in an O.L.A. lacrosse game. It was the first home-win for the Celery Kings and second win in five games. After being down 9-6 at half time, Bradford plunged in for ten goals in the third quarter against one fired by the visiting Maitlands.

Other Bradford goal-getters were Keith Collings, three, Chas. Mashinter, Geo. Low and Murray Stevenson two. Perry Standeven, Bob Buchanan, Bob Hanna, Bernie Murray and Al. Hawse, one. Ron Barton was Maitlands top ace with five. Bradford at home Saturday night to Midland.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

Four Hours Of Talk And No New Business Transacted

To sit on a hard chair, minus a cushion, for four solid hours in a temperature between eighty and ninety degrees is quite a chore in itself. Members of council did this chore on Monday night, June 18th. We should add that the mayor had a cushion in his chair. That may partly explain the interminable loquacity, for a man whose extremities are comfortable has a distinct advantage over others who become more and more conscious of a hard seat and a sensitive epidermis.

The dictionary definition of loquacity is talkativeness, and you can say that again! In February of this year we reported to our readers that there was an "epidemic of talking" in council. The epidemic has in no way diminished. Indeed, the plague seems to be gathering momentum as the year advances.

There was so much talking at the last session of council that when midnight struck we hadn't even reached the new business stage. We are not sure that all the unfinished business from the previous session was cleaned up. Four hours of talking and we didn't transact any new business. A board of business men who conducted their enterprise in such a way would be bankrupt in six months.

A Wrong Surmise

There were fourteen or fifteen pieces of correspondence read first by the town clerk, and again by the mayor? This procedure of reading correspondence twice over appears to be wholly unnecessary. No one in council is deaf. They hear what is read the first time. Why, therefore, go over it a second time? At least an hour and a half must have been given over to those letters, none of them of grave importance.

Then came three delegations, composed of the hydro manager, the town foreman, and Mr. Andrew Barker, general manager of the new E. P. Fielding company on Wellington street. All three speakers were brief and to the point. They said what they had to say and stopped there. The time taken up by the delegations was inconsiderable. They deserved to be commended for their clarity and conciseness.

At last we thought we were making headway. The session would move along quickly. Our surmise was wrong. Council became submerged in a morass of loquacity. Time went on and suddenly as the clock struck 12 Councillor Davies, quick on the ball, moved the adjournment. It was instantly seconded. The mayor asked for an extension. Councillor Davies objected, said he had had enough, and reminded the mayor that his motion had been carried. Councillors breathed sighs of relief and departed.

Plain Stalling

The interminable tedium that followed on, after the departure of the delegations, was produced by the thread-bare discussions on meters. As we see it, this matter could have been disposed of expeditiously. All that was needed was for the mayor to have put Councillor Gundy's motion (that the police report be adopted) to the vote.

The report recommended the adoption of the meters for the town. But the mayor did not proceed to put the motion to the vote. Then there was wavering. Then there was another motion, that the recommendation of meters be adopted in principle. That was plain stalling. Members of council sat mute while the mayor went on talking.

Then the mayor appeared to have a sudden brain wave. He suggested that the report be taken clause by clause. Once the first clause was approved the adoption of meters for the town was an accomplished fact. We think the procedure was technically wrong. There should have been a vote taken on Councillor Gundy's motion. Had the motion carried the police committee's report could then have been referred to a committee, to work out the details.

NO MORE CHAIN STORES

Rumors are persisting that one of the large chain stores is proposing to open a branch at the south end of the town, and that is why property is being sold at that location.

We hope that the pressure of public opinion will be brought to bear on the town council to refuse a building permit for such a purpose. There is no need for any more chain stores in Aurora. Chain Stores are a menace to individual enterprise, as represented by our own merchants. There are enough private merchants in Aurora to supply most needs; and where those needs cannot be completely met there are other excellent individual merchants only ten minutes away by bus or car, in Newmarket.

A chain store is like an octopus, with its death-dealing tentacles. As a rule the chain store owners wait until a district has been developed and then they descend on it, exploiting what the individual merchant has helped to create. It is not good enough that our Aurora merchants should be menaced by these competitors from outside, who have done nothing to help build up the town, by their enterprise and through the taxes they pay, the local merchants have helped build their home town.

Council has recently resolved that all itinerant hawkers and pedlars must pay licences for trafficking their merchandise. It was a good move by council. Infinitely more important is this question of chain stores. Council must come to the defence of the local merchants by forbidding the introduction of the unequal competition of the chain stores.

This is a beginning of our defence of our Aurora merchants. We intend to keep this matter right in front of the public eye, and to fight the introduction of more chain stores in Aurora with all the means we can command.

ONE YEAR'S TRIAL

One hundred and twenty-five meters are to be installed in selected areas in Aurora at the earliest moment. Council arrived at this decision at its meeting on June 18th. The vote was far from unanimous five for and three against meters.

It is, we think, a pity that the matter was not debated in public, so that opinions from citizens might have been heard. This decision in favor of meters is clearly the outcome of a petition signed by thirty-one merchants, and, apart from them, the voice of the public has not been heard.

Mayor Bell, in urging the installation of meters, drew upon the experience of Barrie and Newmarket. There are grounds of comparison between Aurora and Newmarket, but absolutely none between Aurora and Barrie, the latter having a city population status.

In spite of certain extremely limited but blustering opinions to the contrary, Aurora is a quiet town indicating very slow change. There is a large part of its population that prefers it that way. They will resist the clamor of certain crackpots to make it otherwise; even if such crackpots snare their effusions in print that is frequently unintelligible.

We have no strong feeling for or against meters. One year from now all doubts, as well as confidence, should be resolved upon their utility or otherwise. Our understanding is that the meters, shortly to be installed in Aurora, can be removed after a year's trial if so desired.

If the use of meters on Yonge street fails to solve the parking problem, they will have failed in their main purpose. If the merchants lose business through their presence, that will be a worse failure. Only time can give the answers.

"COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS"

A year and a half ago we introduced to our Aurora readers a feature which we called "Council Sidelights." At that time we explained the purpose of this feature, but with so many new readers in the Era and Express we think it advisable to restate what we had in mind.

"Council Sidelights" are not primarily reports, but comments on council work as seen through the eyes of one observer. Our first business is to report proceedings at council, as accurately as impartial reporting can accomplish. After that we feel free, as one individual spectator to make our own personal comments on what goes on.

This distinction between reporting and commenting is a very definite one. There are many ways of reporting council or other activities performed by public bodies. Some reporters "slant" what goes on to keep pace with their personal preferences. We look upon that as bad reporting. Reports should furnish readers with bare facts of meetings, so that those who take part in them may be impartially reported.

Personal comment is another matter. Such comment is valuable only to the extent of the writer's competence in evaluating what he or she sets out to assess. It is the reader's privilege to form his or her own judgment on the competence of commentators.

"Council Sidelights" are after-thoughts; judgments formed in intervals of meditation. They provide opportunities also for adding information for readers after council business has been studied from the records at the clerk's office. It is not always possible to get everything down while council is in session. The records correct such omissions.

Favorable or unfavorable comment in "Council Sidelights" is based not on partisanship, but on the writer's understanding of the quality of the work performed.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Bowlers Have First Test, Legion Sponsors Essays, Odd Bit From Mayor

The Aurora lawn bowling club, with the greens in beautiful shape, had its first tournament on Wednesday, June 20. Following a heavy downpour of rain around midday, the sun appeared and about two o'clock bowling experts began to come in.

Unable ourselves to find the time to take part in the games, we went down to the greens around eight o'clock and immediately came up with a number of old friends from Richmond Hill. Among them were the famed Gar Yerex, winner of countless prizes over the years, Councillor Floyd Perkins, Morley Hall, Russell Lynett, Jimmy Grainger and Dr. Young. Among bowlers they are all in the first class.

Newmarket also sent its quota of skilled successors of Sir Walter Raleigh. They were: Jim Law, Andy Murdison, Jack Luck, J. O. Little, V. Goring and E. McCaffery. Newmarket did more than send its quota of experts, for the team skipped by Jim Law, and supported by Andy Murdison and Jack Luck, took away with them the third prize of bridge sets, for one win of 42 points.

The redoubtable Gar Yerex, skipping a team composed of Dr. Young and Floyd Perkins, won first prize with three wins for 53 points. Richmond Hill even carried off the second prize, with two wins for 53 points plus four. Skipping honors for this triumph were divided between Jimmy Grainger and Morley Hall. Number one winners had as their prize the lawn chairs, and number two the cushions.

Other teams present at the tournament hailed from Toronto, Agincourt and Stouffville. The visitors praised the Aurora greens and expressed appreciation for the welcome given them by their hosts.

New Members

Aurora lawn bowling club is welcoming new members. Among these is Herb J. Thompson, formerly of Sunderland, Ontario, who has recently taken up residence in town. Mr. Thompson's daughter is the wife of Anson Gilbert, son of the well-known Burt, motor car magnate.

Mr. Thompson is an old and good bowler, and is a welcome acquisition to the club, which is showing signs of producing many good bowlers this year. He is a member of the ancient fraternity and was showing us a 50 years' membership medal the other day. We hope that Herb will enjoy, as we are sure he will, his new membership in the A.L.B.C.

Boswellian-Johnsonian

We are shortly presenting our readers with a write-up, in our "Local Industries" series, of that first-class Aurora industry, Aurora Textiles Limited, whose president is Mr. Harold Greenhaugh. This industry, as we shall show, has experienced phenomenal progress in a matter of a few years only.

Mr. W. H. Stollery, the company's secretary-treasurer, and president of the Aurora Rotary club, is a versatile man. For several years he was on the editorial staff of the Financial Post. He has been in from the start of Aurora Textiles Limited.

He is, among other things, a Boswell and Johnson scholar; and there are very few of them in Canada. The witty exchanges between James Boswell and the famed compiler of Johnson's dictionary are literary classics. We were reminded of one of these exchanges the other week on reading a filler in one of the smaller if noisier Ontario weeklies, whose editor sometimes appropriates editorials from other weeklies and prints them without acknowledgment of their original authorship.

This plagiarising editor published the other week a filler in his editorial columns which read as follows: "Persons with little authority often have great rudeness."

The filler reminded us of the following exchange between Boswell and Johnson.

Boswell: "Sir, I have heard it said that you are often guilty of great rudeness to persons of authority."

Johnson: "Sir, great rudeness is often the only means left of ridding one-self of undesirable persons and disagreeable approaches."

Essay Competitions

Ab. Hulse was telling us the other day about the essay competitions sponsored by the Aurora Legion, and those of provincial wide range. Ross Linton, Aurora High School, won the first prize of $5 with an essay on the "Four Freedoms". The second prize of $3 was won by Fran

Lee. Public School winners, writing on "Remembrance Day", were Louise Bastedo, Tommy Hulse and Eric Liversedge.

For the province as many as 2,000 essays were entered, from one of which the prime minister of Canada quoted on Empire Day. The district competitions embraced Muskoka, Simcoe, Dufferin and York, outside of Toronto. Louise Bastedo finished first in the district, with Frank Lee finishing second. Both competitors had the distinction of being entered in the provincial field. Four provincial winners were rewarded with an air trip to Ottawa.

Mr. Hulse is to present the prizes at the Public School Legion Donations.

The Aurora Legion donated the sum of $20 to the Ontario Legion university scholarships.

For 1950 the Provincial Legion donated 26 scholarships to the university, each scholarship being valued at $275. In view of growing costs the value of these scholarships has now been increased to $300 each.

Quotation Missed

Last issue, when referring to the commendatory remarks received on the B. G. Whitelaw article we published some time ago, we had intended to quote from the letter Mr. Whitelaw received from the W. J. Gage Company Ltd. We did not have the letter at hand at the time we wrote the note. Now, however, we can give the quote from the letter of the president of the above company, concerning Mr. Whitelaw.

"I have read the article with a great deal of interest. It is quite evident that during the past quarter century you have made a fine contribution to the worthwhile activities of your town and at the same time have done a good public relations job."

"Letter From Home"

Last week we met a very charming lady, Mrs. Charles Anderson, of Virginia, Ontario, who was on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Jim Murray, of the Queen's hotel.

Mrs. Anderson told us that many years ago, when she lived in Chicago, she always read the Era and Express with the feeling that it was a "letter from home". We remarked to Mrs. Anderson that that was about the highest tribute any reader could pay to a weekly newspaper. A former subscriber, she confessed that she had not seen our newspaper for some time.

On showing Mrs. Anderson a copy of last week's issue she very kindly paid tribute to it by saying that it seemed greatly improved in every way. She confirmed her good opinion by asking us to accept a year's subscription for our mailing list.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's son, Harry Leslie, recently married Florence Lillian Dunham, daughter of Aurora's police chief and Mrs. Dunham.

An Odd Statement

One of the oddest statements we have seen for some time was made by Mayor Bell, according to a report in the paper which he has never denied being a part owner. The statement was made at a meeting of the council and the planning board concerned with the adoption of what is called the official plan, a meeting which we did not attend.

It appears from what the Mayor is reported to have said that he sold his house on south Yonge street because he was "rather apprehensive of the type of commercial development which might encroach on his property."

Then the planning board's consultant stepped in and added "You sold your property because you were afraid of what was going to be built near your home," and, as the report states, "developing his contention that one of the main purposes of town planning was the protection of residential property owners."

Well, well, well! Mayor Bell sold his house because he was afraid of what was going to be built near his home. But what about the residents who will be built near his home?

Just be to go to the city hall and see if the Mayor is really as afraid of what is going to be built near his home as he is of what is going to be built near the residents who will be built near his home.

Kingcrafts Guild Plans For Showing Next May

Mrs. James Baxter was hostess to Kingcrafts Guild, June 21, at "Kincaldrum", her country home on the 7th concession. Held on the lawn, a holiday spirit pervaded the gathering, the brilliant sunshine of the midsummer's day harmonizing with the beautiful surroundings of the estate.

An informal business session was conducted by the president, Lady Flavell. The group agreed to hold the public sale of craft work in May, 1952, instead of in October. It was considered advisable to advance the date so that more craft work would be ready by next spring. The 1952 May sale will be held at "Kingswood", the home of Lady Flavell when spring blossoms are at their best.

In order to establish prices on articles, a committee convened by Mrs. Baxter was named to check with handicraft shops, preferably the Bay Street shop, Toronto. Others on the committee are Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. Gordon Wells, Miss Evelyn Courtney and Mrs. Stanley Hunter.

In October the annual meeting of the Guild will be held at Lady Flavell's with a sale of work among members. An exhibit committee appointed to take care of special displays of work at outside handicraft shows includes Mrs. J. T. Phair, Mrs. Frank Rolfe, Mrs. Bob Benson, Mrs. Wm. Poug, and Mrs. E. B. Phair. Mrs. E. B. Phair and

Mrs. J. Henry consented to act as telephone monitors for transportation to regular meetings of the Guild. They may be called and available cars will be listed.

An encouraging note was sounded by Mrs. H. Bryan when the names of six new members were read bringing the enrolment to 70 active members. The president asked that the names of those wishing to join the Guild be turned into the executive.

While new members will definitely not be voted upon, this method will make it easier for the secretary and convenor heads. Mrs. C. P. Johnston reported the constitution will be ready by the September meeting.

Mrs. J. P. Norris gave a graphic account of the hobby show held at Aurora on June 16, when several pieces were displayed by members. She said the whole exhibition in all its variety was "rivalled only by that of the Canadian National Exhibition." She was impressed with the nature display done by Mrs. W. J. Sisman. The various craftsman at work, notably the children, intrigued spectators. Kingcrafts' display was compared very favourably.

Mrs. Poug proposed that five or six leather workers be given special instruction. As convenor of this group she felt the diversified stages of the work appear to require leaders capable of teaching in addition to that done by Mrs. Stavert. A plan will be worked out for this group.

The ruggers brought along the special Kingcrafts rug, which was greatly admired. An abstract design of the rose is carried out in pastel colors against a darker background. The deep inset border is especially attractive. Other articles were arranged on a handicraft table in the living room.

Mrs. J. T. Phair expressed appreciation to Mrs. Baxter on behalf of the Guild for her gracious hospitality. The next meeting of the organization will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 20. An interesting guest at Kincaldrum on June 21 was Mrs. Geoffrey Whitfield, who with her daughter Catherine arrived from England on a three month's stay among friends and relatives in the district. She came to the meeting with Mrs. Earle Scott and found the activity of the group an inspiration to organize her own group when she returns to Plymouth. Mrs. Whittle was born and raised near the 7th concession of King.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville
A TRIBUTE

Since I began writing the Common Round, I have paid two tributes—one to my first vocal teacher, Sir Charles Saunders, and the second to our former premier, Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King.

Now it is my privilege to write a third—this one to a man who is still going about his work of visiting the sick, comforting and consoling the sad and suffering—in short, going about his Master's business.

In his farewell sermon on Sunday of last week, he spoke of the eternal verity of God in a chaotic world—"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever." That is the one belief to which we can anchor souls, often torn with fears for the future and distracted by the ups and downs of life. I'm sure that the feeling that Mr. Cotton was rock-firm in his own belief, helped those who heard him to "stand fast."

That we regret Mr. Cotton's departure for another sphere of action, is an understatement, but the only thing we can do about it is wish him and Mrs. Cotton who has so cheerfully and faithfully fulfilled the exacting and exhausting position of a minister's wife—every good thing—good friends, congenial work, some play, and something of the love and respect they gained here, not only from their own congregation, but from the town folk of other denominations.

He spoke of the remarkable advance the church under Mr. Cotton's leadership had made in every way—in numbers, in missionary efforts, in everything which makes a church a loving reality in the life of a town.

Then addressing Mrs. Cotton and speaking of her share in this fine ministry, he said they wished to present something concrete to symbolize the love of Mr. and Mrs. Cotton's people and also of their many, many friends. At this point Mrs. Seldon presented Mr. and Mrs. Cotton with a magnificent silver tea service of old London pattern, beautifully inscribed from members and friends of Trinity United.

Then Mr. Hooker invited Mr. Elgin Evans to the platform and Mr. Evans presented Mr. Cotton with a $500 victory bond, and he, too, spoke of the affectionate regard in which Mr. Cotton was held by those who knew of his work and worth in the church.

Mr. Evans said that "distance means nothing to true friends." He said that "affection can overcome the barriers of time and space."

Ross Cotton also received a gift, a cheque presented by Mr. Fluttings. He had, the previous Sunday received a hymnary with music from the choir and signed by the organist and all the members.

Mr. Cotton and Mrs. Cotton, in thanking their friends, spoke of the joy it had been a minister to Trinity church. They had been together in sickness and in health, in joy and in sorrow. Mrs. Cotton said that she had not been able to visit as much as she would have liked, but felt her first duty was to keep Mr. Cotton well and happy and she extended a cordial invitation to all present to visit them—not all at once—and partake of a cup of tea brewed in the lovely tea pot.

Mr. Cotton said he felt he was a part of the lives of most of his people. He had christened their babies, married their young folk and buried their dead. We had watched the congregation grow from some 500 to 900.

His work was not made easier by the marks left on him from a

BROUGHTON - REID

St. Hilda's Anglican church, Toronto, decorated with pink and white peonies was the setting Saturday, June 16, for the marriage of Elsie Margaret Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reid, to Kenneth D. Broughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Broughton of Newmarket. Canon J. D. Paterson officiated. Muriel Broughton, the groom's sister, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Benediction."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white taffeta gown fashioned with scalloped torso of French imported lace, minute stand-up collar and plunging neckline, the full skirt sheathed in nylon marquisette, falling into a slight train. From a tiera of seed pearls and silver beads fell a lace trimmed finger-veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and sweet peas. She wore a rhinestone cross, the gift of her mother.

Joan Reid was her sister's maid of honor wearing pastel green. The bridesmaids were Dorothy Broughton, sister of the groom, in mauve and June Brown in canary yellow. The gowns of the attendants, similar in design, were sheer over taffeta with sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirts. They wore matching Juliet caps and carried spring flowers. As flower girl, Jacqueline Hudges was gown in pink taffeta, caught above the hemline with tiny blue bows. A pink poke bonnet completed her costume and she carried a nosegay of mixed sweetpeas and carnations.

Ivan Gibson of Newmarket was best man and the ushers were Clifford Gunn and Donald Cudworth, the bride's cousin.

For the reception held on the lawn of the bride's parents on Bowie Ave., Mrs. Reid received in navy crepe, white and navy accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Assisting was Mrs. Ethel Gunn of Newmarket, wearing brown, matching accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's travelling costume was a gold gubardine suit, white hat and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. The honeymoon was spent in Haliburton district. The couple are making their home in Toronto.

German concentration camp, but the loyalty of his friends and the worth of the work, had made it possible for him to carry on. He said the members of Trinity church were the best listeners he had ever preached to.

Pictures were taken of all participants in the program and then Mr. Evans asked Mr. Luesby to show some pictures of Florida.

These, as far as I saw were fine, but unfortunately I did not see them all, as work in the kitchen called.

A delicious lunch brought the evening to a close—an evening that Mr. and Mrs. Cotton's friends would like to scent with some of Mrs. Elgin Evans wonderful rose leaves and press in the book of memory.

What They Are Saying

go into that, which was a pity.

Why Run Away?

Why should the mayor have quit because of a fear of what was going to be built near his home? He is chairman of the Building Permits committee. He is also an ex officio member of the planning board. As chairman of the Building Permits committee he could have recommended that no building permit be granted to a commercial undertaking calculated to destroy the values of adjacent residential properties.

Actually, the disclosure of the mental fears admitted by the mayor is a sad proof that he does not understand the work over which he presides. Council has the power, without any help from the planning board, to zone off residential areas, to protect them from the invasion of undesirable commercial enterprises. Council zoned off Kennedy street west on a recent petition from the residents and property owners of that area. What council did for Kennedy street it could have done for south Yonge street.

If the mayor didn't want to quit his home, why didn't he take similar steps to those taken by Kennedy street petitioners? He had the zoning powers of council to protect him; and the municipal act, had he cared to look it up. We may be rather dumb, but the whole thing puzzles us. It may also puzzle a lot of other people.

The mayor's "apprehension" did however provide a chance for the consultant to put in a plug for the planning board, from which he derives substantial sideline fees—at the cost of the taxpayers. Poor mayor! Having to quit his home because he was "rather apprehensive"!

Town Clerk Quits
There is a lot of quitting going on just now. The mayor quits his home because he is "rather apprehensive", and the town clerk quits for reasons that he did not make fully transparent. He did say in his letter of resignation that he had been interested in getting into a mechanical line, and that this had become a reality.

Towards the close of the June 4 council session Mr. Clark indicated his dissatisfaction at not receiving a further cost of living bonus, this having been granted to the foreman of the Waterworks department. He made it clear that unless some action were taken he would consider other plans. It was decided to refer the matter to the personnel committee. They were to meet on Thursday, June 14, but failed to do so. Mr. Clark resigned on June 20, at a special meeting of council concerned with the planning board zoning hotly-toities.

One speculation arises: Would Mr. Clark have resigned if council had granted him a further cost of living bonus? Troubles Aplenty!
In January of this year William Large resigned and was re-instated. Then he was fired on the morning of Tuesday, January 16, at a hurried meeting of three town representatives at the municipal chambers.

Now the town clerk himself resigns, leaving no experienced assistant to handle town matters. Our understanding is that Ken G. Moses has received no training whatever in the handling of town business. It is not to be expected that he can know more than he has been shown.

It is most regrettable that the town should be subjected to such fits and starts in its municipal management. The office of town clerk is a very responsible one, whose duties cannot be learned in a few weeks.

(6) That a sufficient number of extra coin boxes be secured so that all boxes can be sealed before being placed in the machine and full boxes be returned to the clerk with the seal unbroken.

Clause 7 of the report was cancelled. It read: "That meters be placed on the sidewalk at a distance of not less than 12 inches from the curb."

The Talkers

Thirty-one merchants signed the petition for meters. There are those who predict that the presence of meters on the streets will injure trade. These forecasters hold the view that weekend country shoppers will not take kindly to such a restrictive innovation as meters. Time alone can decide who is right. The merchants asked for the meters and they have got them.

We think this insistence on the part of the merchants determined the mayor's attitude on the matter. We think that Councilor Fielding was convinced that meters were good in themselves; good for traffic regulation and good for town revenue. What Reeve Cook thought we do not know, for he took little or no part in the wordy battle. He sat tight.

Councillor Pringle had little to say; he seldom has. Corbett was dead against meters though he, too, took up little time in argument. Victor Jones was at his Churchillian best. He hasn't been so fiery since the planning board debates. The chief talkers were the mayor, Murray, Gundy, Davies and Fielding.

Fading Hopes

By some people we shan't be loved for saying this; but the people we have in mind don't love us anyway, so what's the difference? What they won't love us for saying is this: The mayor is more and more losing ground in his capacity as chairman. Instead of guiding his team towards decisions, as a good chairman should, he leads them into the wilderness of logicity.

We had hoped at one time that he would correct this error. Our hopes are fading away. Four hours of council talking and no new business transacted. No new business reached in four hours. Think that one over for yourself.

Strawberries are in good crop. Prospects are good for raspberries but some cherries are blighted.

Dr. E. Reddick's address to the W.I. of Bogartown and Pine Orchard at Union church on Thursday, June 21 was most interesting and appreciated.

BROWNHILL

The people of Brown Hill were more fortunate than our Zephyr neighbors who were visited by the big storm which moved piles of lumber and a barns off their foundations. But some of the folks aren't too happy over their flooded gardens.

Glass Reunion

Descendants of Daniel Glass who came from Ireland to Canada at three years of age, about the year 1835, gathered for a family reunion at Innisfil Park, Lake Simcoe on Sunday. About 40 were present from King, Aurora, Richmond Hill, Toronto and Barrie. Anne and Ruth Snelgrove, young children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Snelgrove (Jean Kelley) of King made the fourth generation, great granddaughters of Daniel Glass and his wife Elizabeth Lockwood. David Glass, 6 months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Glass (Pete) of King, third generation, was the youngest of the gathering. Mrs. Charles Neill, 77, of Eversley was the eldest. Her brothers, Leonard, Ernest, Harvey and Norman, all children of Daniel, were at the gathering. Their sister, Mrs. Louise Keffer, 78, lives in Nelson, B.C. There are about 70 descendants in the Glass families.

It happened to be the 700th anniversary of Innisfil township on Saturday and Sunday and free entrance to the municipal park was given both days. On Sunday Rev. Dr. Pidgeon of Toronto addressed the gathering. Rev. A. H. Halbert, formerly of King was also on the platform.

See Twister Devastation

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kee and family were caught in north traffic detour on highway 27 Sunday evening on their way from their cottage at Triple Bay, near Midland. They detoured and re-detoured more than 20 miles. They arrived 20 minutes after the hurricane swept a devastating swath in the Midhurst district. Huge tree tops were cut off, cottages were levelled and everywhere there were wires and rubble on the highway. Police detachments were scarcely able to cope with the traffic tie-up. They saw the roof of one cottage swept away, the bed covers ripped off and property strewn with trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bregg, Toronto, are spending a week with their daughter, Mrs. Gordon Tetely.

Mrs. Walter Hamby and son Hughie stayed at Barrie after Kinghorn picnic at Midhurst last week. They visited her mother, Mrs. William Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Regan with Reta and Mary spent weekends at their cottage, "Killarney", at Musselman's Lake.

Visit Homestead

Mrs. William Boys and daughter, Winnifred, Laskay, motored with a son, Harold Boys of Whitby to Chesley on Saturday remaining until Tuesday. Mrs. Boys returned to the MacTavish homesteads where she was raised to visit her nephews. Her name was MacTavish before her marriage and it is about four years since she visited the Scotch settlement there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilde of St. Catharines spent last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wells. The foursome motored to Stayner for dinner at Wilcox Inn, and were greatly interested in a display of antique glassware there. They say it is well worth the trip, the various colors and shapes of the glassware making an interesting study. The party called at Midhurst on the return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ratcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Campbell were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Folliott on Sunday in honor of the Campbell's 12th wedding anniversary, June 28.

On Wednesday of last week George Hatley, Jr., a graduate of Aurora High School, and his chum, Frank Harrison of Aurora, left for Edmonton, Alta., where they expect to find employment. They will stay at the Y.M.C.A. until work is found. George will be at Edmonton for the next three months. Frank will return home for the re-opening of classes at high school in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richards, Simcoe, were at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Richards after the Campbell reunion at Vellore on Saturday, returning home on Sunday. They motored from Simcoe to Guelph Agriculture College on Saturday to attend the Ontario Junior Farmers' picnic where several of Norfolk County were entered in contests. Roy is agricultural representative for Norfolk. He had to leave the scene early in order to attend the family reunion at Vellore where he was chairman. Other guests of Mr. Jesse Richards were Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Collins, Toronto, at Vellore picnic for the evening dance and on to the Richards until Sunday. John Richards, a son, is recovering from a tonsillectomy recently performed at York County hospital.

Little Barbara Rawlings has been quite ill from bronchitis and an ear infection. She was in bed last week but is now improving.

43rd Anniversary Laskay W.I.

Despite bad weather and a two-hour hydro cut-off early last Friday evening, a good crowd attended the annual strawberry festival of Laskay Women's Institute in W.I. Hall. While the attendance was reduced this year, all of the 149 boxes of berries were either served or sold afterward as was the overflow of home baking, to realize more than $100. It was the 43rd anniversary of the branch of which Mrs. Norman Egan is president.

The excellence of the program convened by Mrs. Percy Leatherdale, Miss Winnifred Boys and Mrs. Effie Bath was worth the price of admission alone. Contributing were Mrs. A. J. Gordon of King, soprano soloist, accompanied at the piano by her daughter Thelma; Mrs. Kearney of Woodbridge, who played instrumentals during the supper hour accompanied by the sing-songs. She is the organist of Woodbridge United church and was accompanist for Mrs. George Brownlee of Pine Grove, a professional violinist, who has studied in the continent. Mrs. Brownlee also conducted her own orchestra in Montreal prior to her residence in Vaughan township. Among her selections were the Hungarian Rhapsody, Ave Maria, Perpetual Motion and Souvenir. Mrs. Garriock of Woodbridge also sang groups of songs accompanied by Mrs. Kearney.

Norman MacMurchy made an excellent chairman of the evening. Visitors came from Toronto, Bradford, King and other places. Large pilgrimages to Mary Lake On Sunday there were nearly 700 people in two Toronto pilgrimages to Our Lady of Grace Shrine, Mary Lake. They were St. Lucy Society of St. Agnes Parish who came for mass at 10 a.m. and the Legion Mary attending the Stations of the Cross and the Benediction at one o'clock. The worshippers were transported by four buses and 150 private cars, some of these from neighboring points. Last week several came to the Shrine from Our Lady of Mercy Hospital and the House of Providence, Toronto. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, about 300 children from Toronto separate schools accompanied by the sisters, were at Mary Lake. On the second two days, the group was from St. Thomas Aquinas. The children were from 10 to 14 years of age. The first regular summer Sunday bus service to Our Lady of Grace commenced last Sunday.

Kinghorn Teacher Re-engaged Miss Evelyn Courtney will continue to teach in S.S. 23 next term. There is no graduating class this June and by next September, 11 new students, including the two Pickell children will attend. At one time there was talk of closing the school because of the small attendance but present indications point to a growing school population.

A pioneer institution, founded more than 115 years ago, it boasted an enrolment of 80 during average attendance of 80 during the time when the Davis Tannery operated on the site now known as Memory Acres. The overflow was housed in the original log school house and two teachers were employed at one time. Later, when the small building was torn down and the present school altered, enrolment reached 65 in 1895. Ernest Hollinshead recalls how some 15 children sat in double seats on the platform and around the walls, all the remaining seats being occupied.

"There seemed to be children everywhere, the room was full during the winter months when the young men took courses", he said. When spring farm work commenced these young men were off the roll. One teacher taught all grades as well as subjects of the first and second form of high school.

Mr. Hollinshead recalls how all the maple trees on the school grounds were planted by the late Walter Rolling during his 41 years' principalship. "I helped to set them out. They were taken from Burns' bush as saplings. They stand like a memorial to a great teacher", he declared.

Picnic at Midhurst

Kinghorn school section held a picnic at Midhurst Park on Thursday, June 21. Nearly everyone in the section was on hand with 52 present of which 23 were children. Ten private cars started out at 9 o'clock in the morning, returning about 8:30 in the evening. Miss Evelyn Courtney, the teacher, with 17 students of the school, was more than pleased with the response of ratepayers. The facilities of the government reforestation site were open to the visitors as children and adults toured about enjoying the sights. The children were fascinated with the wild life, birds and fish. There was a baby fawn, myriads of trout in a pond, proud peacocks strutting about in enclosures and other sights, far removed from the carnival features of many picnic grounds. After the noon lunch, which was actually a feast, including heaps of strawberries, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. George Courtney, the teacher's parents, ice cream, bananas, tomatoes, supplied by the school board, and picnic baskets brought by the adults. A ball game between children and elders, a few games of horseshoes completed a full day. By that time, hunger overtook everyone again and the food baskets were invaded before the picnickers set out on the return trip.

Miss Aileen Scott, a graduate of Toronto Normal School, will teach grade 3 in Fairmeadow public school, Fairmeadow Ave., North York township in September. ### Communion Observed

Union Communion was dispensed in two King charges on Sunday, June 24. At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Strange, there were 54 communicants from the congregations of Eversley, Strange and St. Paul's of the Ninth Line. Six new members joined. From St. Paul's were Mrs. Lorne Hilliard by certificate and her daughter Vera, on profession of faith. From Eversley, Mrs. Leonard Shropshire and Mrs. Jas. ### Plan Carnival-Dance

Under the auspices of Lake Marie and King Athletic Association a carnival and dance will be held in King Memorial Park July 18. A Meteor sedan car will be given to the holder of a lucky ticket. The car has been exhibited at several Ontario centres and is drawing attention wherever it is seen. President George Brown and wife and others of the executive are pleased with the sale of tickets. The annual event, held for several successive years, needs no introduction since it represents a trust fund toward a hall for the community.

Funds for Hospital Sterilizer

Collections from a district canvass amounting to over $130 sponsored by King Women's Institute for York County Hospital will assist in purchasing a sterilizer for hypodermic needles, a much needed piece of equipment at the hospital. Upon reporting the results of the collections to the Institute, Mrs. T. L. Williams said she made inquiries as to how the money could be best used. Miss Thomas, the superintendent, suggested a sterilizer. The information met with the approval of the branch. Those who had conducted the canvass were Mrs. Jerry Walker, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. T. L. Williams, Mrs. A. E. Kelley and Mrs. Ivan Specht. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. R. Hollinshead and Mrs. Specht represent the W.I. on the Hospital Auxiliary.

Chest X-Ray Important

Mrs. Harvey Folliott will convene local arrangements for helpers with the chest X-ray survey in King on July 17. Temperanceville and Laskay W.I. in conjunction with the King branch will assist operators of the mobile unit which will be set up outside King United church. The hours are 1 to 9 p.m. The survey is sponsored by the National Sanitarium Association. Appoint Third Teacher

These grades will be taught in the new addition being constructed at the two-room school. Grade 3 will be taken from the present junior room, taught by Miss Doris Patton. Grade 4 will come from the senior room in the charge of the principal, Miss Eva Dennis.
